

President May Start To Walk
Next Saturday

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower took a 24-hour recess from Cabinet-level conferences today after approving new assurances there will be no further military cuts without a "radical change"
in the world situation.

The latest assurances, from Secretary of Defense Wilson, and Adm.
Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, followed similar forecasts from Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of the Treasury Humphreys after their earlier talks with Eisenhower at Pittsboro Army Hospital.

"The president had a good sound night's sleep of more than eight hours," a 7 a.m.
MST medical bulletin said today. "He awoke feeling refreshed and in a cheerful mood.
His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

Dulles is flying here from Washington tonight for a final conference with Eisenhower tomorrow before he and Wilson leave for the foreign ministers' conference opening at Geneva Oct. 27.

The gradual return to active direction of government is proving a good tonic for the President.

Fear Over-Exertion
The big problem of the doctors now is to keep him from over-exerting himself. They think the conferences he is having are good for him but, for this week at least, they are trying to space them carefully, with a day in between.

The President will meet with Atty. Gen. Brownell Friday morning. There may be brief talks with Dillon Anderson, Eisenhower's assistant on national security affairs, between the meetings with Dulles and Brownell.

Yesterday, Wilson and Radford outlined a prospective budget to the President for the year starting next July 1. It calls for continuing military spending around the current year's estimate of $34.5 billion or even a little higher, possibly as much as $50 billion to a billion more.

Wont Slash Strength
Wilson said his department would not go to any "extreme in cutting the military strength to balance the budget."

STATION WAGON
STRIKES WOMAN

Miss Ruth Davis, 57, 215 W. High
St., suffered bruises and lacerations Monday afternoon at 12:25 when she was struck by a backing station wagon, and knocked to the ground on Baltimore St.

Borough police, who investigated, said Miss Davis was standing on Baltimore St. at its intersection with the alley at the G. C. Murphy Co.
store, when Curtis R. Bucher, S.
Selon Ave., Elmursts, attempted to back his station wagon out of a parking space.

Miss Davis, who was attempting to cross the street, was standing at the northeast side of the backing vehicle and the driver did not notice her until he hit her, he told police.

Bucher rushed Miss Davis to the Warner Hospital where she was treated for skinned knuckles of the left hand, and bruises of the left hip

WORKERS NAMED BY GOP WOMEN

The meeting of Republicans in the Biglerville-Butler Twp. area was held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Biglerville National Bank with local committeemen, State Committeeman Frank J. Slonaker and Chairman John H. Basehor in attendance. State and county workers and members of the Council of Republican Women also attended.

The main topic was the discussion of loss of votes from improperly marked ballots. Attention was called to the fact that the use of checks instead of X's, pens instead of pencil for marking, failure to tear off ballot corner, etc., caused disqualification of more than 100 ballots in the area at each election.

Plans were outlined to call on residents in the area to insure a representative vote in the coming election. County issues were discussed and the candidates addressed the group.

Mrs. J. T. Hollabaugh, Biglerville, announced the following workers: Connie Brown, Martha Bendler, Duretha Funk, Bertha Slaybaugh and Margaret Walter.

Mrs. Blaine Hughes, chairman of Butler Twp., announced workers in that area: Margaret Bream, Genevieve Bagley, Madeline Shank,
Mrs. James McDonald, Miss Sue
Harper, Mrs. George Hykes, Mrs.
Martin Walter, Mrs. Clayton Jester, and Mrs. Jack Payne.

The Gettysburg Lions Club urged the town council to purchase the High Street school building for community recreation and for additional tourist parking facilities, at a regular meeting Monday evening at the Shelter House.

After a lengthy discussion when it was pointed out that "Gettysburg needs a community center as well as a parking area for tourists" the club voted unanimously in favor of the recommendation and instructed Secretary Ralph Barley to notify council.

Game Warden Paul H. Glenn spoke and showed a film on safety with firearms.

The group donated $25 to the United Nations observance in Gettysburg which will be held Sunday.
It was announced that next Monday's meeting will be held at the High School cafeteria where all service clubs will join in a United Nations meeting.

President Earl Ziegler presided at the meeting which was attended by 81 members and two visitors.

Winners Of Women's Golf Trophies

man, winner of the third flight; Mrs. R. Rogers Herr, winner of the 18-hole handicap and Mrs. Roy W. Gifford, winner of the chip-in contest. Mrs. Philip C. Zulick, winner of the fourth flight, was not at the dinner-meeting.

MAN IS JAILED
FOR STEALING 2
PAIRS OF PANTS

Bonnie Lee Howard, Biglerville
R. 2, itinerant worker, was in the Adams County jail today charged with stealing the trousers of Antonio Mojica and Everisto Reyes Diaz, two harvest hands from Puerto Rico.

Cpl. Frank Yercavage said Howard, a five foot, nine inch, 150-pound 19-year-old Negro from "somewhere in the south" was arrested Monday morning and brought before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehor Monday afternoon, charged with burglary and larceny in connection with the theft of the pants.

Howard waived a hearing and in default of bail was committed to jail. The amount of bail must be set by the court if he should seek his release while awaiting the next court session.

Ransacked Building
Yercavage said Howard is accused of leaving the itinerant labor camp at the Blue Ribbon Orchard Saturday night and going to a similar work camp at the Donald Boyer Nursery nearby, which houses a number of Puerto Ricans.

Howard is charged with forcing a window at the Puerto Rican camp and ransacking the structure,
"apparently in search of money."
Failing to find money, police assert, Howard left with two pairs of trousers, one belonging to Mojica and the other to Reyes. Shortly after leaving the building Howard is alleged to have dropped one of the pairs of trousers, apparently in his haste to get away.

Police were called and went to the area about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. According to the officers, Howard saw the police car arriving and hid in a cherry orchard until about ten o'clock Sunday night. The officers made a search, but, failing to find Howard, abandoned the search at dusk. They returned Monday morning and found Howard at work and arrested him.

SELECT GIRLS
FOR PARADE

Four girls were selected as color bearers for the U.N. parade next Sunday at a meeting Monday night of Senior Girl Scout Troop 4. Those chosen to represent the troop are:
Elsie Darrah, Susan Robinson, Deborah McCullough and Dolores Miller.

Mrs. Harold Culp, leader of the troop, announced the names of Senior girls who will attend the Senior Round-up next year. Delegates will leave Friday afternoon for Brighton Woods, Brighton, Md., where they will receive training for the conference. The girls will return Sunday night. The girls chosen include:
Marilyn Culp, Mary Hewetson, Louise Collins, Evelyn Gaston and Janet Sell, of Littlestown.

Plans for a Halloween party were outlined. The party will be held at the home of Mary Hewetson Oct. 31.
Mrs. Culp, leader of the troop, was assisted by Mrs. Frank Hewetson and Mrs. Jennings Collins.

Accident Victim Buried In Fairfield

Funeral services for Lawrence F.
Klosterman Jr., 21, of Gettysburg R. 2, one of four persons killed in an automobile accident early Saturday morning on the Boonsville Rd., were held at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Fairfield. Rev. Fr. John McAnulty, pastor, officiated. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery.

The pallbearers were James Weikert, George Steinberger, Joseph Bushey Sr., Alan Shryock, Robert
Davis Jr., Eugene Pecher, Frederick
Myers and David H. Reese.

SAYS 7 MILLION CHILDREN ARE IN INSTITUTIONS

Rev. Victor Hand, superintendent of the Methodist Children's Home at Mechanicsburg, told the local Rotary Club at its meeting night at the YWCA. "There are 7,000,000 children in institutions tonight, here in the United States."

"We think of our nation as one based on church, school and home, but we have 7,000,000 children who do not have homes. That's a city of children, if they were all together at one spot, almost as big as New York, at least twice as big as Philadelphia or 76 times as big as Harrisburg."

"In our nation one child out of every 12, aged 15 or under, has only one parent, and one child out of every 33, aged 15 or under, is a complete orphan."

"Thus our problem of proving institutional care for children is tremendous. We have 178 children's institutions in Pennsylvania alone and I am not including such penal institutions as White Hill and the rest."

NEGLECTED ART IS OUTLINED AT GUILD MEETING

Dr. William K. Sundermeyer, head of the German Department at Gettysburg College, introduced the highlights of the "neglected art" of sculpture to members of the Adams County Arts and Crafts Guild at a meeting Monday night at the YWCA. Program chairman, Miss Jean Thomas, introduced the speaker.

Dr. Sundermeyer traced the beginnings of sculpture to cave dwellers who chiseled on stone, wood and bones. Unifying the past and present, he said: "Today, years later, man still has the urge to mould and carve."

Demonstrating the strong Greek influence in sculpture of the western world, Dr. Sundermeyer explained the three popular techniques of sculpting: first, that of cutting into a smooth surface to make the desired effect; second, bas relief, and third, the third dimensional sculpture in the round.

"Great sculptors know that their is a true work of art when the public who views the art feels and recognizes the 'living moment' which the sculptors chiseled into the work," he added.

Prize Winners
Ernest Krape, president of the guild, announced the artists and paintings which received the popular vote at the annual exhibit held Oct. 9 at the American Legion building.

"Eastern Shore" by William Benson, Baltimore, father of Mrs. John Crow, Gettysburg R. 2, first prize.
In second place was "Covered Bridge" by Admiral Earle Dally, of East Berlin "The Church of the Abiding Presence" by Mrs. G. H.
Held, Table Rock Road, won third place.

Hostesses at the social hour which followed the lecture were: Mrs. Elizabeth Gregg, Mrs. Anna Miller, Mrs.
Charles Taylor, Mrs. R. B. Albright and Mrs. Robert Kleppinger.

Supreme Court Upholds U.S.
Judge's Release Of Soldier
Sentenced To Life As Traitor

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—John David Provoo, once found guilty of treason and sentenced to life imprisonment, has beaten the rap because the government outsmarted itself and kept him in custody too long before trying him.

A Supreme Court decision yesterday left him free of the charges.
The government reportedly spent one million dollars trying to convict him. One government lawyer said this was the most important treason case since Aaron Burr's.
Provoo's story is strange. So is the government's handling of him.

Provoo, a Californian now 38, went to Japan to learn the language to study the Buddhist religion. He returned home in 1941 and, a few months before war began, enlisted in the Army. He was shipped to the Philippines.

Captured By Japs
He was among those Americans captured by the Japanese at Cor-reidor. Right there, the government argued years later, Provoo became a turncoat by becoming a Buddhist priest and offering to help the Japanese.

He was in a Japanese prison camp until the war ended in 1945 but then the Army held him a

MISS KASEBERG IS NAMED APPLE
DESSERT QUEEN

Miss Erika Kaseberg, 17, a senior at Gettysburg High School, was selected as Adams County's Apple Dessert Queen at a contest held Monday evening at the New Oxford High School. Representatives from six county high schools took part in the contest. The runner-up was 18-year-old Janice Sanders, a Fairfield High School Senior.

Miss Kaseberg, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Walter J. Kaseberg, Gettysburg R. 1, won first honors with an apple streusel pie which she said is a "recipe Dad and I whipped up." Her father is a chef at the Hotel Gettysburg. Miss Sanders baked a plain apple pie.

Wins Bronze Medal
A Betty Crocker cookbook and a blue ribbon with a bronze medal was presented the county champion
by Mrs. Wilmer Bream, Biglerville, representing the Pennsylvania Fruit Growers Association.

Miss Kaseberg, a four-year vocation home economics student at Gettysburg High School, taught by Miss Eva Jane Schwartz, has participated previously in both apple dessert and cherry pie contests. An only child, she claims horseback riding, swimming, ice and roller skating as her favorite sports and plans to study interior decorating following graduation from high school.

She has been a Future Homemakers of America member for several years and has attended state and regional meetings. She is a member of the Junior Historians and Red Cross Council at high school. Other activities include 4-H, Gettysburg Riding Club and church organization membership.

Former Champion
Miss Sanders, a daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Oliver Sanders, Fairfield R. D., is a former county champion in cherry pie and peach dessert contests. She is one of six children, a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, plays first clarinet in the Fairfield High School band and is art editor for the Fairfield yearbook. She plans to attend the Louis Habel Training School after graduation from high school and hopes to obtain a position in the cafeteria at the Little Pentagon. At present she is employed part time as a waitress in a diner.

Other contestants included:
Nancy Sebright, 17, New Oxford;
Phyllis Beaverson, 16, York Springs;
Carolyn Harrison, 15, Littlestown; Betty Boyer, 17, Biglerville. The judges were Beverly Morgan, Metropolitan Edison Co. home economist;
Mrs. Gloria Harrah, a former home economics teacher, and Robert Thompson, owner of Bob's Diner.

Miss Margaret Brant, Adams-County home economics advisor, supervised the contest. The contestants and judges were served dinner by Mrs. Mary Stock, homemaking teacher at New Oxford High School.

SCHOOL BANDS WILL PLAY FOR MANY AFFAIRS

The several bands of the Gettysburg Joint School District will make 16 public appearances in parade or concert within the next month.
It was announced today by Robert Zeigler, director.

The 58-piece Senior band plus its group of majorettes, drum major and color guard played at the Middletown-Gettysburg football game Monday night and paraded this afternoon to advertise the peanut sale the band members are currently conducting.

Friday evening they will appear at the Hershey-Gettysburg football game at which time a prominent Pennsylvanian will be featured in a special half-time routine.

Following a United Nations parade next Sunday the band takes part in two Halloween parades, one local, on the 26th, and one at Hanover, on the 28th, with another football game at Waynesboro rounding out the week. On Tuesday, November 1, the group will present a half-hour concert preceding the Little White House conference on educational problems to be held in the new high school auditorium. The formal dedication of the auditorium and annex will be held on Wednesday, November 9, and the band will play a short concert before the program. The last two football games, Senior band players for are Carlisle at home and Hanover away on November 4 and 11.

Junior Band Schedule
The Junior band, majorettes, drum major and banner carriers make their appearance at half-time during the second home Junior High School football game Thursday. The DEMOCRATIC WOMEN'S CLUB

MEETS MONDAY

The Womens' Democratic Club of Adams County met in the Odd Fellows Hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock with 29 members and nine guests in attendance. Mrs. S. C.
Ballard, president, presided.

Mrs. Evelyn Chinsmer read a prayer for the United Nations. It was followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. John D. Lippy Jr. reported on the third anniversary dinner to be held November 21 at 7 p.m. at the VFW home. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Norma Moore or Mrs. Lippy before November 15.

Mrs. Ballard announced the Congressman Quigley will speak here in December.

She read a communication from Fred G. Klunk, county chairman, urging all club members to attend at least one of the rallies being held in different sections of the county within the next few weeks.

Candidates Speak
Two candidates were introduced and spoke briefly: George Kane, county commissioner, and Herbert Miller, prothonotary.

Regrets were read from Mrs.
Laura Cratin, who could not be present. She is a candidate for auditor.

District Attorney Daniel Teeter, who is seeking reelection spoke on "Why We Have Elections" and how a candidate goes about seeking office. "The candidate should feel that he wants to seek the office and be qualified to do the duties of the office he seeks."

"The most difficult job after deciding to seek office is to reach the people, so that they become in-

WOMEN GIVEN
GOLF TROPHIES

Mrs. Robert E. Davies, County Club Lane, was awarded a trophy symbolic of the women's golf championship of the Gettysburg Country Club at a dinner-meeting of women golfers Monday evening at the club house.

Kermit Deardorff, club president, told the women that they had played a prominent part in the increase in interest in golfing at the club in the past two years. He congratulated them upon their attainments and awarded the trophies after the dinner.

Other winners who also received trophies were:
Mrs. Gordon J. Webster, second flight; Mrs. Sterling F. Musseman, third flight; Mrs. Philip C. Zulick, fourth flight. Mrs. Zulick was unable to attend the dinner-session; 18-hole handicap. Mrs. R. Rogers Herr; 9-hole handicap. Mrs. Richard C. Fink and Chup-In contest. Mrs. Roy W. Gifford.

A buffet dinner was served prior to the awarding of the trophies following which bridge was played.
Mrs. Thomas L. Cline was chairman of the women's golf committee.

NEIMAN JAILED FOR "CONTEMPT"
IN COURT HERE

Charles L. Neiman, Abbottstown was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for contempt of court Monday afternoon when he appeared before the Adams County Court to explain why he was $384 in arrears on a support order.

Neiman explained that he had been out of work, but Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz and Probation Officer D. M. Anderson gave details of what he had and jobs he lost during the period, and finally the court obtaining that "somehow you'll have to learn that you must support your wife and children," sent Neiman to jail.

A hearing on the request of Jesse Jenkins, Fairfield R. 2, for termination of his support order, was continued to November when the court held that witnesses produced by Jenkins raised "suspicious" of infidelity on the part of Mrs. Jenkins but did not prove the charge. Mrs.
Jenkins was in the court house at the time of the hearing, but did not come into the court room, arguing she needed more time to get witnesses. When Jenkins failed to prove his case, the court observed that from the testimony produced there evidently would be additional witnesses available and that both Jenkins and his wife would benefit by a continuation of the hearing to November in order to obtain more witnesses.

Case Is Snarled
Attorneys Edward B. Bulleit and Eugene R. Hartman presented arguments in a case as scheduled, but both they and the judge agreed that the arguments for the moment were "purely academic" until the plaintiff discovered whom to sue.
The argument was on preliminary objections of the defendant to the plaintiff's claims in the action in trespass brought by Waller Rees, Akron, O., against Samuel J. Mattingly, late of Gettysburg. Rees was struck by Mattingly's car while walking across Lincoln Square May 8, 1952. Since the case was started in 1954 Mr. Mattingly has died. Thus when the scheduled argument was held, there was, at that moment, no one for Rees to sue.

William Weygandt, Baltimore, was ordered to pay $10 per week for the support of a child following a hearing.

Donald L. Sadler, Gettysburg R. 5 was directed to pay $10 per week for the support of two children, also following a support hearing.

in the country, and claims the most extensive overall style and engineering improvement in its field—over two dozen new features, according to L. Irving Woolson, president.

Woolson said: "De Soto will offer expected substantial increases in horsepower and new peaks of performance. But the company will also afford the comfort, convenience features, plus approved safety items and other devices and accessories, including some important industry

President May Start To Walk Next Saturday

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower took a 24-hour recess from Cabinet-level conferences today after approving new assurances there will be no further military cuts without a "radical change" in the world situation.

The latest assurances, from Secretary of Defense Wilson, and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, followed similar forecasts from Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of the Treasury Humphreys after their earlier talks with Eisenhower at Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

"The president had a good sound night's sleep of more than eight hours," a 7 a. m. MST medical bulletin said today. "He awoke feeling refreshed and in a cheerful mood. His condition continues to progress satisfactorily without complications."

Dulles is flying here from Washington tonight for a final conference with Eisenhower tomorrow before he and Wilson leave for the foreign ministers' conference opening at Geneva Oct. 27.

The gradual return to active direction of government is proving a good tonic for the President.

Fear Over-Exertion

The big problem of the doctors now is to keep him from over-exerting himself. They think the conferences he is having are good for him but, for this week at least, they are trying to space them carefully, with a day in between.

The President will meet with Atty. Gen. Brownell Friday morning. There may be brief talks with Dillon Anderson, Eisenhower's assistant on national security affairs, between the meetings with Dulles and Brownell.

Yesterday, Wilson and Radford outlined a prospective budget to the President for the year starting next July 1. It calls for continuing military spending around the current year's estimate of $34.5 billion or even a little higher, possibly as much as $60 billion to a billion more.

Want Slash Strength

Wilson said his department would not go to any "extreme" in cutting the military strength to balance the budget."

MRS. MITCHELL DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Erma Louise (Slenker) Mitchell, 52, wife of Commander James M. Mitchell, son of Mrs. Jennie Mitchell, Baltimore St., and daughter of the late John W. and Amelia Seitz Slenker, York, died at about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the United States Naval Hospital, Norfolk, Va. The late Mrs. Mitchell formerly lived in York. Commander Mitchell, a former Gettysburg resident.

She is survived by two daughters, Joanne A. and Barbara M., both of Norfolk, Va., three sisters, Mrs. Daniel G. Meekley, Miss V. Marie Slenker and Mrs. Claire Snyder, York, and one brother, John A. Slenker, Cleveland, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Strack and Strine Funeral Home, York, conducted by Rev. John E. Winter, pastor of the Lower Reformed Church, of York. Interment will be in the Gettysburg National Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening.

STATION WAGON STRIKES WOMAN

Miss Ruth Davis, 57, 215 W. High St., suffered bruises and lacerations Monday afternoon at 12:25 when she was struck by a backing station wagon, and knocked to the ground on Baltimore St.

Borough police, who investigated, said Miss Davis was standing on Baltimore St. at its intersection with the alley at the G. C. Murphy Co. store, when Curtis R. Bucher, S. Seton Ave., Gettysburg, attempted to back his station wagon out of a parking space.

Miss Davis, who was attempting to cross the street, was standing at the northeast side of the backing vehicle and the driver did not notice her until he hit her, he told police.

BIGLERVILLE WORKERS NAMED BY COP WOMEN

The meeting of Republicans in the Biglerville-Butler Twp. area was held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Biglerville National Bank with local committeemen, State Committee Chairman Frank J. Sionaker and Chairman John H. Baschore in attendance. State and county workers and members of the Council of Republican Women also attended.

The main topic was the discussion of loss of votes from improperly marked ballots. Attention was called to the fact that the use of checks instead of X's, pens instead of pencil for marking, failure to tear off ballot corner, etc., caused disqualification of more than 100 ballots in the area at each election.

Plans were outlined to call on residents in the area to insure a representative vote in the coming election. County issues were discussed and the candidates addressed the group.

Mrs. J. T. Hollabaugh, Biglerville, announced the following workers: Connie Brown, Martha Beidler, Duretha Pink, Bertha Slaybaugh and Margaret Walter. Mrs. Blaine Hughes, chairman of Butler Twp., announced workers in that area: Margaret Bream, Genevieve Bagley, Mathilda Shank, Mrs. James McDonald, Miss Sue Harper, Mrs. George Hykes, Mrs. Martin Walter, Mrs. Clayton Jester, and Mrs. Jack Payne.

ASKS COUNCIL TO BUY SCHOOL

The Gettysburg Lions Club urged the town council to purchase the High Street school building for community recreation and for additional tourist parking facilities, at a regular meeting Monday evening at the Shelter House.

After a lengthy discussion when it was pointed out that "Gettysburg needs a community center as well as a parking area for tourists" the club voted unanimously in favor of the recommendation and instructed Secretary Ralph Barley to notify council.

Game Warden Paul H. Glenny spoke and showed a film on safety with firearms.

The group donated $25 to the United Nations observance in Gettysburg which will be held Sunday. It was announced that next Monday's meeting will be held at the High School cafeteria where all service clubs will join in a United Nations meeting.

President Earl Ziegler presided at the meeting which was attended by 81 members and two visitors.

Winners Of Women's Golf Trophies

MAN IS JAILED FOR STEALING 2 PAIRS OF PANTS

Bonnie Lee Howard, Biglerville R. 2, itinerant worker, was in the Adams County Jail today charged with stealing the trousers of Antonio Mojica and Everisto Reyes Diaz, two harvest hands from Puerto Rico.

Cpl. Frank Yercavage said Howard, a five foot nine inch, 150-pound 19-year-old Negro from "somewhere in the south" was arrested Monday morning and brought before Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore Monday afternoon, charged with burglary and larceny in connection with the theft of the pants.

Howard waived a hearing and in default of bail was committed to jail. The amount of bail must be set by the court if he should seek his release while awaiting the next court session.

Ransacked Building

Yercavage said Howard is accused of leaving the itinerant labor camp at the Blue Ribbon Orchard Saturday night and going to a similar work camp at the Donald Boy Nursery nearby, which houses a number of Puerto Ricans.

Howard is charged with forcing a window at the Puerto Rican camp and ransacking the structure, "apparently in search of money." Failing to find money, police assert, Howard left with two pairs of trousers, one belonging to Mojica and the other to Reyes. Shortly after leaving the building Howard is alleged to have dropped one of the pairs of trousers, apparently in his haste to get away.

Police were called and went to the area about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. According to the officers, Howard saw the police car arriving and hid in a cherry orchard until about ten o'clock Sunday night. The officers made a search, but, failing to find Howard, abandoned the search at dusk. They returned Monday morning and found Howard at work and arrested him.

COLLECT CLOTHING, TOYS

The Mt. Hope, Mt. Carmel and Mt. Calvary Christian Endeavor group will gather clothing Saturday which will be sent overseas. Old toys will also be collected and repaired by members for distribution at Christmas in the Quincy Orphanage.

SELECT GIRLS FOR PARADE

Four girls were selected as color bearers for the U.N. parade next Sunday at a meeting, Monday night, of Senior Girl Scout Troop 4. Those chosen to represent the troop are: Elsie Darrah, Susan Robinson, Deborah McCullough and Dolores Miller.

Mrs. Marjorie Culp, leader of the troop, announced the names of Senior girls who will attend the Senior Round-up next year. Delegates will leave Friday afternoon for Brighton Woods, Brighton, Md., where they will receive training for the conference. The girls will return Sunday night. The girls chosen include: Marilyn Culp, Mary Hewetson, Louise Collins, Evelyn Gaston and Janet Sell, of Littlestown.

Plans for a Halloween party were outlined. The party will be held at the home of Mary Hewetson Oct. 31. Mrs. Culp, leader of the troop, was assisted by Mrs. Frank Hewetson and Mrs. Jennings Collins.

Accident Victim Buried In Fairfield

Funeral services for Lawrence F. Klosterman Jr., 21, of Gettysburg R. 2, one of four persons killed in an automobile accident early Saturday morning on the Bonneville Rd., were held at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Fairfield. Rev. John McNulty, pastor, officiated. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery.

The pallbearers were James Welkert, George Steinberger, Joseph Bushey Sr., Alan Shryock, Robert Davis Jr., Eugene Pecher, Frederick Myers and David H. Reese.

SAYS 7 MILLION CHILDREN ARE IN INSTITUTIONS

Rev. Victor Hand, superintendent of the Methodist Children's Home at Mechanicsburg, told the local Rotary Club at its meeting night at the YWCA. "There are 7,000,000 children in institutions tonight, here in the United States."

"We think of our nation as one based on church, school and home, but we have 7,000,000 children who do not have homes. That's a city of children, if they were all together at one spot, almost as big as New York, at least twice as big as Philadelphia or 76 times as big as Harrisburg."

"In our nation one child out of every 12, aged 15 or under, has only one parent, and one child out of every 33, aged 15 or under, is a complete orphan."

"Thus our problem of proving institutional care for children is tremendous. We have 178 children's institutions in Pennsylvania alone and I am not including such penal institutions as White Hill and the rest."

Supreme Court Upholds U.S. Judge's Release Of Soldier Sentenced To Life As Traitor

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—John David Provo, once found guilty of treason and sentenced to life imprisonment, has beaten the rap because the government outsmarted itself and kept him in custody too long before trying him.

A Supreme Court decision yesterday left him free of the charges. The government reportedly spent one million dollars trying to convict him. One government lawyer said this was the most important treason case since Aaron Burr's. Provo's story is strange. So is the government's handling of him.

Provo, a Californian now 38, went to Japan to learn the language to study the Buddhist religion. He returned home in 1941 and, a few months before war began, enlisted in the Army. He was shipped to the Philippines.

Captured By Japs

He was among those Americans captured by the Japanese at Corregidor. Right there, the government argued years later, Provo became a turncoat by posing as a Buddhist priest and offering to help the Japanese.

He was in a Japanese prison camp until the war ended in 1945 but then the Army held him a

NEGLECTED ART IS OUTLINED AT GUILD MEETING

Dr. William K. Sundermeyer, head of the German Department at Gettysburg College, introduced the highlights of the "neglected art" of sculpture to members of the Adams County Arts and Crafts Guild at a meeting Monday night at the YWCA. Program chairman, Miss Jean Thomas, introduced the speaker.

Dr. Sundermeyer traced the beginnings of sculpture to cave dwellers who chiseled on stone, wood and bones. Unifying the past and present, he said: "Today, years later, man still has the urge to mould and carve."

Demonstrating the strong Greek influence in sculpture of the western world, Dr. Sundermeyer explained the three popular techniques of sculpting: first, that of cutting into a smooth surface to make the desired effect; second, bas relief, and third, the third dimensional sculpture in the round.

"Great sculptors know that their is a true work of art when the public who views the art feels and reacts the 'living moment' which the sculptors chiseled into the work," he added.

Ernest Krape, president of the guild, announced the artists and paintings which received the popular vote at the annual exhibit held Oct. 9 at the American Legion building.

"Eastern Shore" by William Benson, Baltimore, father of Mrs. John Crow, Gettysburg R. 2, first prize. In second place was "Covered Bridge" by Admiral Earle Dally, of East Berlin. "The Church of the Abiding Presence" by Mrs. G. H. Heldt, Table Rock Road, won third place.

Hostesses at the social hour which followed the lecture were Mrs. Elizabeth Gregg, Mrs. Anna Miller, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. R. B. Albright and Mrs. Robert Kleppinger.

MISS KASEBERG IS NAMED APPLE DESSERT QUEEN

Miss Erika Kaseberg, 17, a senior at Gettysburg High School, was selected as Adams County's Apple Dessert Queen at a contest held Monday evening at the New Oxford High School. Representatives from six county high schools took part in the contest. The runner-up was 18-year-old Janice Sanders, a Fairfield High School Senior.

Miss Kaseberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Kaseberg, Gettysburg R. 1, won first honors with an apple streusel pie which she said is a "recipe Dad and I whipped up." Her father is a chef at the Hotel Gettysburg. Miss Sanders baked a plain apple pie.

Wins Bronze Medal

A Betty Crocker cookbook and a blue ribbon with a bronze medal was presented the county champion by Mrs. Wilmer Bream, Biglerville, representing the Pennsylvania Fruit Growers Association.

Miss Kaseberg, a four-year vocation home economics student at Gettysburg High School, taught by Miss Eva Jane Schwartz, has participated previously in both apple dessert and cherry pie contests. An only child, she claims horseback riding, swimming, ice and roller skating as her favorite sports and plans to study interior decorating following graduation from high school.

She has been a Future Homemakers of America member for several years and has attended state and regional meetings. She is a member of the Junior Historians and Red Cross Council at high school. Other activities include 4-H, Gettysburg Riding Club and church organization membership.

Former Champion

Miss Sanders, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sanders, Fairfield R. D., is a former county champion in cherry pie and peach dessert contests. She is one of six children, a member of the Tri-Hi-Y, plays first clarinet in the Fairfield High School band and is art editor for the Fairfield yearbook. She plans to attend the Louis Habel Training School after graduation from high school and hopes to obtain a position in the cafeteria at the Little Pentagon. At present she is employed part time as a waitress in a diner.

Other contestants included: Nancy Sebright, 17, New Oxford; Phyllis Beaverson, 16, York Springs; Carolyn Harrison, 15, Littlestown; Betty Boyer, 17, Biglerville. The judges were Beverly Morgan, Metropolitan Edison Co. home economist; Mrs. Gloria Harrah, a former home economics teacher, and Robert Thompson, owner of Bob's Diner.

Miss Margaret Brant, Adams-Cumberland-Perry Counties home economics advisor, supervised the contest. The contestants and judges were served dinner by Mrs. Mary Stock, homemaking teacher at New Oxford High School.

SCHOOL BANDS WILL PLAY FOR MANY AFFAIRS

The several bands of the Gettysburg Joint School District will make 16 public appearances in parade or concert within the next month, it was announced today by Robert Zeigler, director.

The 58-piece Senior band plus its group of majorettes, drum major and color guard played at the Midtown-Gettysburg football game Monday night and paraded this afternoon to advertise the peanut sale the band members are currently conducting.

Friday evening they will appear at the Hershey-Gettysburg football game at which time a prominent Pennsylvanian will be featured in a special half-time routine.

Following a United Nations parade next Sunday the band takes part in two Halloween parades, one local, on the 26th, and one at Hanover, on the 28th, with another football game at Waynesboro rounding out the week. On Tuesday, November 1, the group will present a half-hour concert preceding the Little White House conference on educational problems to be held in the new high school auditorium. The formal dedication of the auditorium and annex will be held on Wednesday, November 9, and the band will play a short concert before the program. The last two football games Senior band plays for are Carlisle at home and Hanover away on November 4 and 11.

The pallbearers were: Howard Smith Wilbur Sprecker, Donald Gorman, George Gorman, Merle Gorman and John Gorman.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN'S CLUB MEETS MONDAY

The Womens' Democratic Club of Adams County met in the Odd Fellows Hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock with 29 members and nine guests in attendance. Mrs. S. C. Ballard, president, presided.

Mrs. Evelyn Chrismer read a prayer for the United Nations. It was followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. John D. Lippy Jr. reported on the third anniversary dinner to be held November 21 at 7 p.m. at the VFW home. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Norma Moore or Mrs. Lippy before November 15.

Mrs. Ballard announced the Congressional Quigley will speak here in December.

She read a communication from Fred G. Klunk, county chairman, urging all club members to attend at least one of the rallies being held in different sections of the county within the next few weeks.

Candidates Speak

Two candidates were introduced and spoke briefly: George Kane, county commissioner, and Herbert Miller, prothonotary.

Regrets were read from Mrs. Laura Cratin, who could not be present. She is a candidate for auditor.

District Attorney Daniel Teeter, who is seeking reelection spoke on "Why We Have Elections" and how a candidate goes about seeking office. "The candidate should feel that he wants to seek the office and be qualified to do the duties of the office he seeks."

"The most difficult job after deciding to seek office is to reach the people, so that they become in-

WOMEN GIVEN GOLF TROPHIES

Mrs. Robert E. Davies, Country Club Lane, was awarded a trophy symbolic of the women's golf championship of the Gettysburg Country Club at a dinner-meeting of women golfers Monday evening at the club house.

Kermit Deardorff, club president, told the women that they had played a prominent part in the increase in interest in golfing at the club in the past two years. He congratulated them upon their attainments and awarded the trophies after the dinner.

Other winners who also received trophies were: Mrs. Gordon J. Webster, second flight; Mrs. Sterling F. Musselman, third flight; Mrs. Philip C. Zulick, fourth flight, was unable to attend the dinner-session; 18-hole handicap, Mrs. R. Rogers Herr; 9-hole handicap, Mrs. Richard C. Fink and Chip-In contest, Mrs. Roy W. Gifford.

A buffet dinner was served prior to the awarding of the trophies following which bridge was played.

Mrs. Thomas L. Cline was chairman of the women's golf committee.

NEIMAN JAILED FOR "CONTEMPT" IN COURT HERE

Charles L. Neiman, Abbottstown, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for contempt of court Monday afternoon when he appeared before the Adams County Court to explain why he was $384 in arrears on a support order.

Neiman explained that he had been out of work, but Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz and Probation Officer D. M. Anderson gave details of jobs he held and jobs he lost during the period, and finally the court observed that "somehow you'll have to learn that you must support your wife and children," sent Neiman to jail.

A hearing on the request of Jesse Jenkins, Fairfield R. 2, for termination of his support order, was continued to November when the court held that witnesses produced by Jenkins raised "suspicions" of infidelity on the part of Mrs. Jenkins but did not prove the charge. Mrs. Jenkins was in the court house at the time of the hearing, but did not come into the court room, arguing she needed more time to get witnesses. When Jenkins failed to prove his case, the court observed that from the testimony produced there evidently would be additional witnesses available and that both Jenkins and his wife would benefit by a continuation of the hearing to November in order to obtain more witnesses.

Case Is Snarled

Attorneys Edward B. Bulleit and Eugene R. Hartman presented arguments in a case as scheduled, but both they and the judge agreed that the arguments for the moment were "purely academic" until the plaintiff discovered whom to sue. The argument was on preliminary objections of the defendant to the plaintiff's claims in the action in trespass brought by Walter Rees, Akron, O., against Samuel J. Mattingly, late of Gettysburg. Rees was struck by Mattingly's car while walking across Lincoln Square May 8, 1952. Since the case was started in 1954 Mr. Mattingly has died. Thus when the scheduled argument was held, there was, at that moment, no one for Rees to sue.

William Weygant, Baltimore, was ordered to pay $10 per week for the support of a child following a hearing.

Donald L. Sadler, Gettysburg R. 5, was directed to pay $10 per week for the support of two children, also following a support hearing.

DE SOTO WILL BE PRESENTED HERE ON WEDNESDAY

De Soto publicly displays its increased line of 11 new 1956 models Wednesday here and at over 2,700 other De Soto-Plymouth dealerships in the country, and claims the most extensive overall style and engineering improvement in its field—over two dozen new features, according to L. Irving Woolson, president.

Woolson said: "De Soto will offer expected substantial increases in horsepower and new peaks of performance. But the company will also afford the comfort, convenience features, plus approved safety items and other devices and accessories, including some important industry 'firsts'."

"Safety and concern for the persons behind the wheels of our cars are primary interests at De Soto," he continued. "Our increased horse-

British Cabinet Confers And Royal Family Meets To Discuss Princess' Romance

By HAL COOPER
LONDON (AP)—The British Cabinet and the royal family gathered for separate talks today on how to deal with the rising uproar over the goldfish-bowl romance of Princess Margaret and Peter Townsend.

Prime Minister Eden called an afternoon meeting of the Cabinet at his official residence, No. 10 Downing St., and tonight was due for an audience with Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace.

The Queen, arriving home from her summer vacation in Scotland, was expected to have a family conference later with her husband the Duke of Edinburgh, Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret.

"Case Of Nerves"
What would come of all this no outsider could foretell. There was some hope, but little expectation, that it would result in an immedi-

At Least 34 Persons Die In Northeastern Three-Day Rain Drenching Disaster

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three days of drenching rain has wreaked another flood disaster on states still groggy from Hurricane Diane's punch two months ago.
In six states, 34 persons were known or presumed dead, and property losses were in the millions.
Much railroad service was halted. Highways were closed and bridges knocked out. Thousands were evacuated.
New England meteorologists spoke of diminishing rainfall and receding waters.
But in upstate New York the Hudson and Mohawk rivers continued to rise and were expected to crest at above flood levels.
Continuing rain caused worry in New York too.
Tackle 2 Major Chores
The big chore ahead was cleaning up and getting snarled transportation moving again. Roads were blocked throughout the area, particularly in Connecticut.
There was a threat too to employment until flooded factories could get out from blankets of mud.

The weather was freakish. A two-minute twister tore through the Red Bank, N.J., area yesterday afternoon. Show fell in western Massachusetts, southern Vermont and northern New York.
A new hurricane, Katie, bore down on Haiti and the Dominican Republic. She was not expected to bother the U.S. mainland, however.
Katie's older sister Diane set the pattern for this weekend's unnamed storm. The toll of Diane's flash floods two months ago was 169 dead, 20 missing and damage estimated at 1 1/2 billion dollars.
Hits Conn. Hard
Connecticut again was the hardest hit, both in life and property. Three U.S. Rubber plants in Naugatuck were knocked out, and the company said 5,000 workers would be out of jobs temporarily.
Connecticut suffered 12 dead or presumed dead, New York 10, Pennsylvania 7, Rhode Island 3, and New Jersey and Massachusetts 1 each.
Danbury, Conn., reported more than 11 inches of rain from Friday through Sunday, a record. But other cities were considerably below that figure.

Diane's surprise assault produced a battle-tested rescue and relief team. With more warning, because this weekend's disaster developed slower, this team went smoothly into operation again. The Army, Navy and Coast Guard mobilized to help. Civil defense and the Red Cross sprang into action.
Thousands of persons were evacuated safely and supplies flowed steadily into stricken areas. The Red Cross estimated that more than 4,000 families were affected in Connecticut alone.
As the weary mayor of Ansonia, Conn., William T. Sheasby, put it: "There's a limit to the punishment people can take."
Emergency proclamations sprang up in the storm area. Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, with 48 towns in his state affected, again sought federal aid for Connecticut. From his sickbed in Denver, President Eisenhower issued assurances of help.
Transport was one of the big problems.
Scores of roads were blocked and railroads stalled or barely limped along. The busy New Haven Railroad suspended most of its traffic yesterday, but expected commuter service between Stamford and New York to resume today.

Resume Service To Boston

Partial service to Boston resumed last night. The New York Central expected more or less normal service today on its Hudson and Harlem divisions, although the Putnam division was "suspended until further notice."

Helicopters and amphibious vehicles were used in rescue work. When a New Haven train was stranded overnight at Wilton, Conn., helicopters airlifted the 83 passengers to safety yesterday.

Connecticut officials said the weekend's damage would not approach the estimated 215-million-dollar-loss of last August.

In the current flood:
A frame house in Norwalk collapsed, and three persons were swept into Long Island Sound.
The swollen Norwalk River carried away Mrs. Susan Kelly's two-story house. Somehow she swam away and a policeman found her clinging to a piece of lumber in 15 feet of water. But her husband Tom, 74, and two women roomers were missing and presumed to have perished.
"I don't know how I was saved," she said. "God must have taken care of me."

Five hundred persons were isolated in Georgetown, Conn. Helicopters evacuated men, women and children stranded without food or water. Late in the day a National Guard contingent battered its way into town.

An estimated 4,500 persons were the children at the Mechanicsburg Methodist Home, adding, "We try to make it a real home for the children and judging by the number who come back to visit after graduation, I think we have to a large extent succeeded. Two out of every three of our children have taken advanced training and education after high school. They have become nurses, teachers, school principals, even superintendents. But best of all they have founded good Christian homes and are raising good Christian families."

President Philip M. Jones presided at the meeting with 57 present. Dr. Jacob Heikkinen reported on the Community Concert Association programs to be held December 2, February 13 and April 23. Dr. W. Fred Shaffer announced plans for the U.N. Week parade Sunday and dinner meeting next Monday night at the Gettysburg High School.

terested and get the proper information to make the right decision when they vote," he said.

He said the duties of the district attorney were to advise people as to criminal law; advise officials who enforce the law; prosecute cases before the court, and other duties.

He said, "Qualification is the most important point in selecting an office holder."

Judge W. C. Sheely also spoke.

Mrs. Ballard introduced the U.N. program. A film strip was shown dealing with UNESCO.

Scout Fraternity Will Convene Here

Alpha Phi Omega, National Boy Scout honorary fraternity, will hold a regional conference, November 11 and 12, at Gettysburg College, it was announced Monday night at the weekly Inter-Fraternity Council meeting in Clafelter Hall. IFC cooperation was asked to provide housing for the men attending the conference.

The Pan-Hell Sing will be held April 6 in the Plank gymnasium. The sing is a competition conducted at many colleges throughout the country in which fraternities and sororities participate. The best singing group in each class, men and women, is selected.

A progress report was submitted on the IFC weekend, scheduled for November 18 and 19, by the committee in charge.

Edward Lehman, Alexandria, Va., and Mildred Lehman, Shumok, Ind., have instituted an action in trespass in the Adams County courts, against Richard C. Shirley Sr. and Richard C. Shirley Jr., York Springs, R. 1.

According to the papers filed by Attorney John A. MacPhail for the law firm of Swope, Brown and Swope, Mildred Lehman is seeking damages for her car, and Edward Lehman is seeking a sum for medical treatment, and pain and suffering.

The complaint states that Edward Lehman, driving Mildred Lehman's car, was traveling on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd. four miles south of York Springs on February 7, 1953. At the same time the Shirley's were operating a truck which was towing a sedan. Lehman claims the Shirley's suddenly crossed from the western to the eastern lane of the highway and the towed vehicle crashed into Lehman's car. Lehman suffered a fractured skull among other injuries and was hospitalized at Ft. Belvoir, Va., until August 1953.

Vehicles Collide At Intersection

Vehicles operated by Sandy Blakely, 33, itinerant Florida fruit worker now at Orrtanna, and David B. Wantz, Gettysburg R. 1, collided Monday afternoon at 3:10 o'clock at the intersection of West and W. Middle Sts.

Borough police said Blakely was traveling west on W. Middle, when a car operated by Wantz south on West St. pulled out into the path of Blakely.

Police reported that Wantz "stopped for a second," and then continued on. An "interested local minister" followed Wantz car and secured its license number. Borough police met state police, who radioed their station and found the owner of the car from the license plate. Later, according to the report, Wantz reported to state police and was referred to borough police.

Geese Are Killed; Cannot Find Vehicle

Borough police searched in vain at 9:45 o'clock this morning for a Florida licensed car, with three men in it, which allegedly killed a number of Mrs. Charles Harner's geese near Barlow.

Police received the call from Mrs. Harner when she reached the Battlefield Service station, after chasing the Florida cars in her own vehicle from the time the Florida sedan allegedly struck her geese as they waddled out into the road. Police expressed the opinion that the fast traveling Florida car had passed through town during the time the phone call was made and police began the search.

JAYCEES GIVE $400 FOR NEW H.S. BLEACHERS

The Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce presented a check for $400 to Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Littlestown Joint School System, to be used as the "kick-off" donation for the new bleachers fund of Memorial Field. The presentation was made at the semi-monthly dinner meeting of the Jaycees Monday evening at Schott's Hotel. The donation was received with expressions of appreciation from King. It represented a portion of the profits realized at the summer music festival.

President Marvin F. Breighner, who presided, announced that the local chapter had received first prize in the state competition, for this population group, for sponsoring the greatest money-making event of the summer, the music festival.

King challenged the Jaycees to play a donkey basketball game against the high school faculty. The challenge was accepted and the date for the affair will be announced later.

Five new members were enrolled. Wilbur Sentz, Thomas Wolfe, Howard Dodder Jr., Thomas Bucher and Richard Selby. Coin containers to receive funds for the United States Olympic fund have been placed in the two banks. Littlestown Newsstand, Marshman's Drug Store and Marvin's Cut-Rate Store.

Enter Parade Float

Paul E. Hiltnerbrick Jr., chairman of the float committee, for the Hanover Halloween parade, asked members to report at Feeder's Dairy Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. to help decorate the float. Hiltnerbrick, who is also chief observer for the Littlestown Ground Observation Post, invited the Jaycees to inspect the Baltimore Filter Center Sunday afternoon leaving at 1 p.m. Transportation will be provided.

Plans were made to hold a food sale November 18 at the engine house. The chapter will sponsor a roller skating party that evening at Banker's. The committee includes: Harry Strine, John F. Feesser Jr., Francis Haines, Francis Gerrick, Harold O. Sentz and Howard Dodder Jr.

President Breighner appointed the following get-out-the-vote committee: Gerald W. Daley, William R. Keefer, Thomas Bucher, Thomas Wolfe and Samuel J. Snyder.

Secretary Thomas E. Craig and Treasurer Harold O. Sentz reported. The Jaycees will meet again on Monday, November 7, at 6:30 p.m.

PARADE IS SET IN EMMITSBURG

Spirits, goblins and witches will descend on Emmitsburg Saturday night, October 29, when the annual Halloween parade will be held under the auspices of the Francis X. Elder Post 121, American Legion. The parade will form at 6:30 p.m. at the Doughboy in West End and the march-off is scheduled for 7 o'clock.

General chairman of the parade, Harold M. Hoke, said that he believed interest was keener this year than on previous occasions. An estimated 500 children and adults participated in last year's fifth annual parade and the chairman requests that those contestants and participants desiring numbers and seeking prizes to show up early on the night of the parade.

Marching Route

From the Doughboy the parade will proceed down Main St. to Federal Ave., along Federal Ave. to the intersection of that avenue and DePaul St. and proceed west to St. Vincent's Rectory grounds where it will disband and at which time refreshments will be served those participating. The Emmitsburg Municipal Band will lead the parade. The Drill Team or Color Guard of the American Legion may also be in the line of march. Other local units are expected.

Prizes will be awarded to the first, second and third respective, as follows: Funniest costume, $5, $2 and $1; best looking, $5, $2 and $1; most original, $5, $2 and $1; funniest costume with pet, $5, $2 and $1; best looking costume with decorated bicycle, $5, $2 and $1. Mercury offers 16 new safety features... More proof of THE BIG M's leadership!

1. NEW IMPACT-ABSORBING STEERING WHEEL with deeply recessed hub and 3-spoke conical design bends under impact or pressure. The driver is better protected in case of accident.

2. NEW SAFETY-BEAM HEAD LAMPS, let you see both farther ahead (up to 80 feet more) and better (in fog, rain, snow). There's less glare, too, for oncoming drivers.

3. NEW SAFETY SEAT BELTS* are securely bolted to floor supports and help protect wearers in emergencies. Available for driver and passengers. Easily adjusted with one hand.

4. NEW PADDED INSTRUMENT PANEL* has a thick plastic cushioning filler with excellent protective qualities. Helps prevent injuries in case of impact against the instrument panel.

5. NEW SAFETY DOOR LOCKS are designed to hold doors closed under three times as much impact as former locks. Safety research shows there is much less likelihood of serious injury in accidents if passengers are not thrown from the cars.

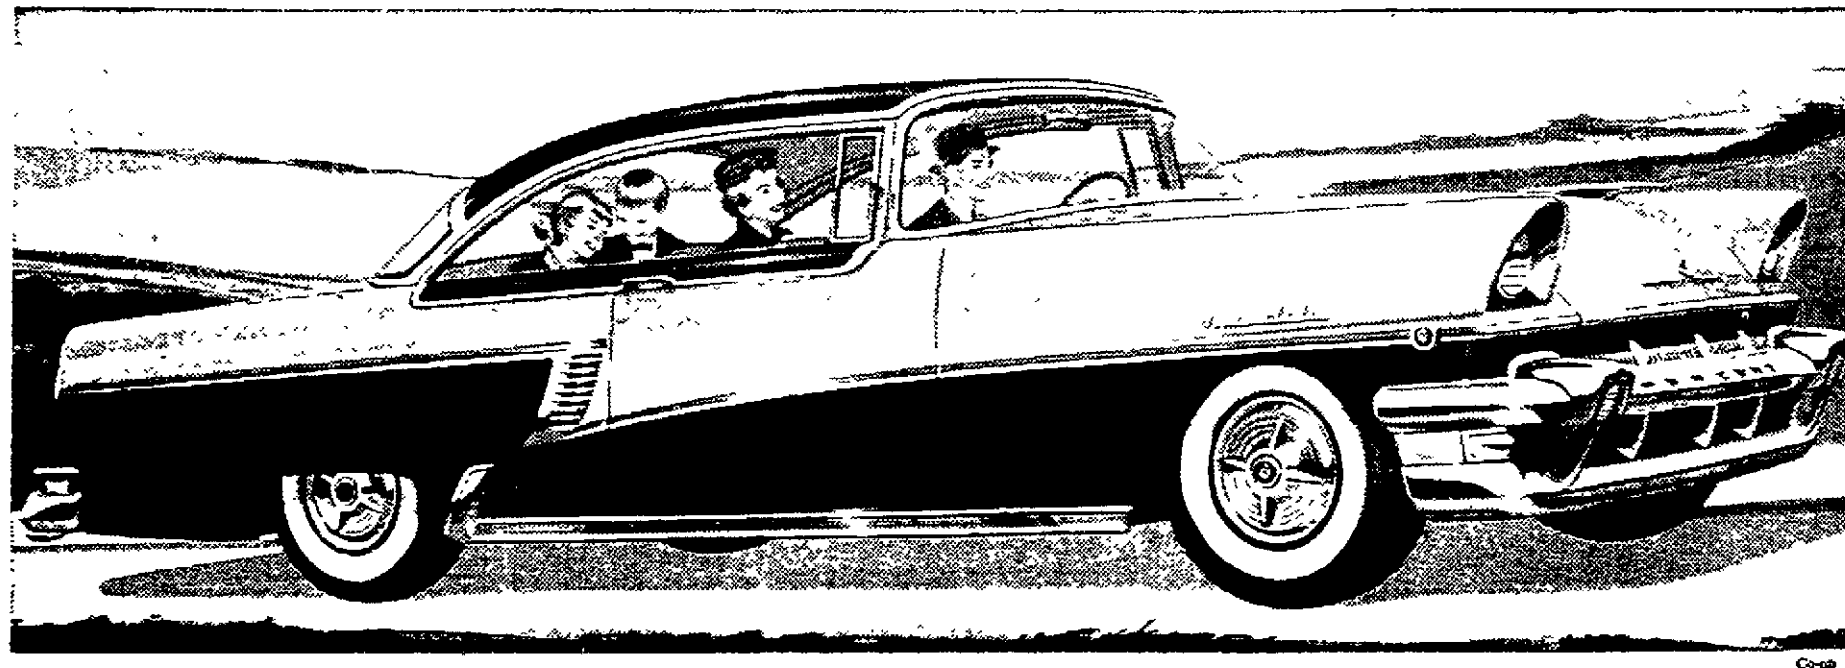

6. REAR DOOR SAFETY LOCKING DEVICE* is available in 4-door

models. Children cannot unlock and open doors until the driver uses a key to trip the safety catch.

7-8. NEW CUSHIONED SUN VISORS*, NEW FULL-SWIVEL SAFETY REARVIEW MIRROR are extra safeguards for driver and passengers.

9-10. NEW 225- AND 210-HP SAFETY-SURGE V-8 ENGINES* AND IMPROVED SAFETY-GRIP BRAKES. You enjoy more usable power than ever for split-second pickup. Safer passing, easier hill climbing. Stopping action is smoother, surer, too.

PARADE IS SET IN EMMITSBURG

Spirits, goblins and witches will descend on Emmitsburg Saturday night, October 29, when the annual Halloween parade will be held under the auspices of the Francis X. Elder Post 121, American Legion.

The parade will form at 6:30 p.m. at the Doughboy in West End and the march-off is scheduled for 7 o'clock.

General chairman of the parade, Harold M. Hoke, said that he believed interest was keener this year than on previous occasions. An estimated 500 children and adults participated in last year's fifth annual parade and the chairman requests that those contestants and participants desiring numbers and seeking prizes to show up early on the night of the parade.

Marching Route

From the Doughboy the parade will proceed down Main St. to Federal Ave., along Federal Ave. to the intersection of that avenue and DePaul St. and proceed west to St. Vincent's Rectory grounds where it will disband and at which time refreshments will be served those participating. The Emmitsburg Municipal Band will lead the parade. The Drill Team or Color Guard of the American Legion may also be in the line of march. Other local units are expected.

Prizes will be awarded to the first, second and third respectively, as follows: Funniest costume, $5, $2 and $1; best looking, $5, $2, and $1; most original, $5, $2 and $1; funniest costume with pet, $5, $2 and $1; best looking costume with decorated bicycle, $5, $2 and $1. Two mystery prizes of $5 will Mercury offers 16 new safety features... More proof of THE BIG M's leadership!

1. NEW IMPACT-ABSORBING STEERING WHEEL with deeply recessed hub and 3-spoke conical design bends under impact or pressure. The driver is better protected in case of accident.

2. NEW SAFETY-BEAM HEAD LAMPS, let you see both farther ahead (up to 80 feet more) and better (in fog, rain, snow). There's less glare, too, for oncoming drivers.

3. NEW SAFETY SEAT BELTS* are securely bolted to floor supports and help protect wearers in emergencies. Available for driver and passengers. Easily adjusted with one hand.

4. NEW PADDED INSTRUMENT PANEL* has a thick plastic cushioning filler with excellent protective qualities. Helps prevent injuries in case of impact against the instrument panel.

5. NEW SAFETY DOOR LOCKS are designed to hold doors closed under three times as much impact as former locks. Safety research shows there is much less likelihood of serious injury in accidents if passengers are not thrown from the cars.

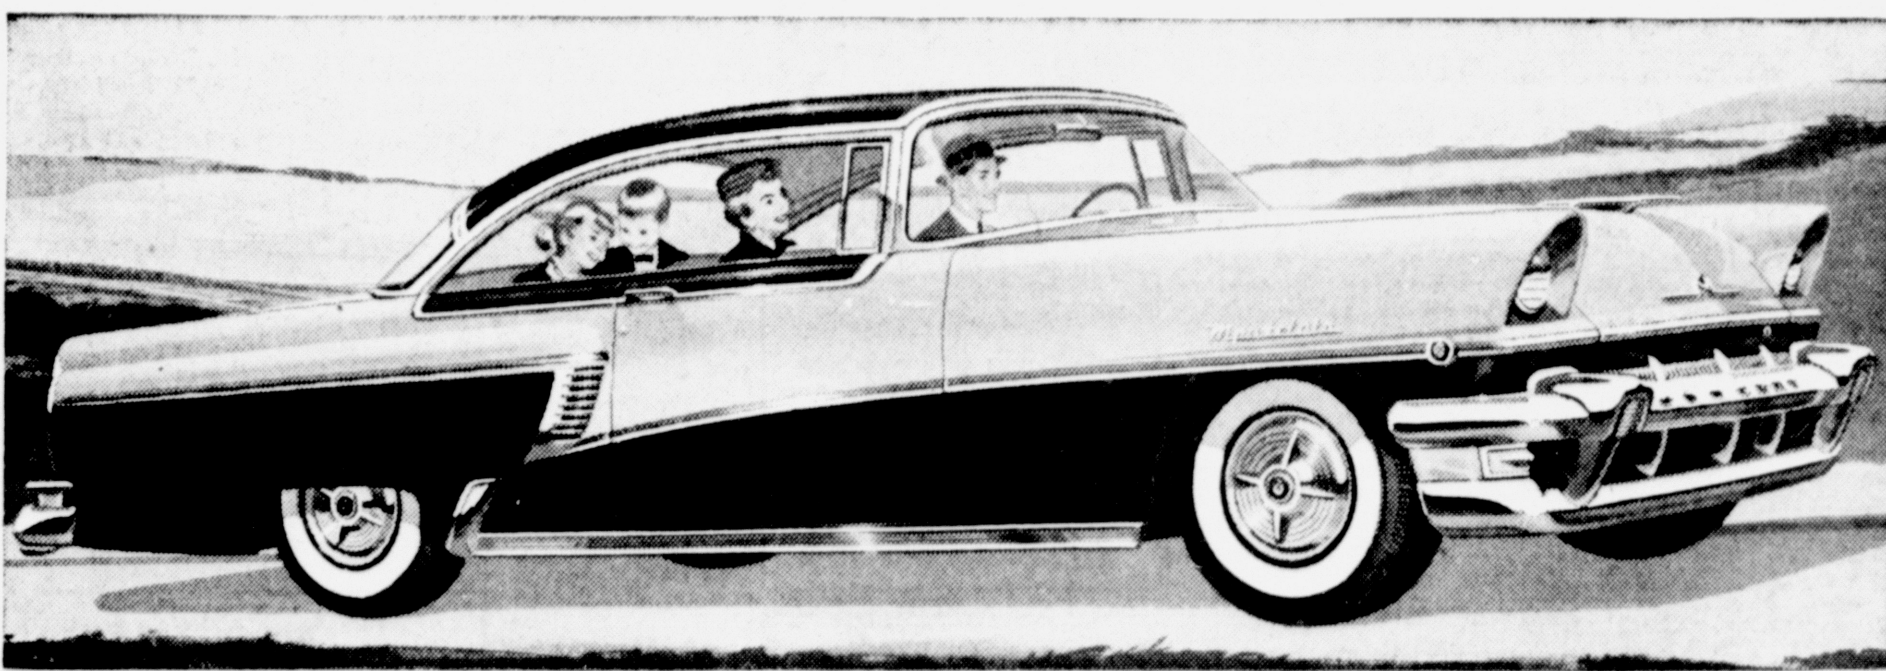

6. REAR DOOR SAFETY LOCKING DEVICE* is available in 4-door

models. Children cannot unlock and open doors until the driver uses a key to trip the safety catch.

9-10. NEW 225- AND 210-HP SAFETY-SURGE V-8 ENGINES* AND IMPROVED SAFETY-GRIP BRAKES. You enjoy more usable power than ever for split-second pickup, safer passing, easier hill climbing. Stopping action is smoother, surer, too.

the children at the Mechanicsburg Methodist Home, adding, "We try to make it a real home for the children and judging by the number who come back to visit after graduation, I think we have to a large extent succeeded. Two out of every three of our children have taken advanced training and education after high school. They have become nurses, teachers, school principals, even superintendents. But best of all they have founded good Christian homes and are raising good Christian families."

President Phil M. Jones presided at the meeting with 57 present. Dr. Jacob Heikkinen reported on the Community Concert Association programs to be held December 2, February 13 and April 25. Dr. W. Fred Shaffer announced plans for the U.N. Week parade Sunday and dinner meeting next Monday night at the Gettysburg High School.

He said the duties of the district attorney were to advise people as to criminal law; advise officials who enforce the laws; prosecute cases before the court, and other duties.

He said, "Qualification is the most important point in selecting an office holder."

Judge W. C. Sheely also spoke. Mrs. Ballard introduced the U.N. program. A film strip was shown dealing with UNESCO.

Scout Fraternity Will Convene Here

Alpha Phi Omega, National Boy Scout honorary fraternity, will hold a regional conference, November 11 and 12, at Gettysburg College, it was announced Monday night at the weekly Inter-Fraternity Council meeting in Glatfelter Hall. IFC cooperation was asked to provide housing for the men attending the conference.

The Fan-Hell Sing will be held April 6 in the Plank gymnasium. The sing is a competition conducted at many colleges throughout the country in which fraternities and sororities participate. The best singing group in each class, men and women, is selected.

A progress report was submitted on the IFC weekend, scheduled for November 13 and 19, by the committee in charge.

Edward Lehman, Alexandria, Va., and Mildred Lehman, Shamokin, have instituted an action in trespass in the Adams County courts, against Richard C. Shirley Sr. and Richard C. Shirley Jr., York Springs R. 1.

According to the papers filed by Attorney John A. MacPhail for the law firm of Swope, Brown and Swope, Mildred Lehman is seeking damages for her car, and Edward Lehman is seeking a sum for medical treatment, and pain and suffering.

The complaint states that Edward Lehman, driving Mildred Lehman's car, was traveling on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg Rd. four miles south of York Springs on February 7, 1953. At the same time the Shirleys were operating a truck which was towing a sedan. Lehman claims the Shirleys suddenly crossed from the western to the eastern lane of the highway and the towed vehicle crashed into Lehman's car. Lehman suffered a fractured skull among other injuries and was hospitalized at Ft. Belvoir, Va., until August 1953.

Vehicles Collide At Intersection

Vehicles operated by Sandy Blakely, 33, Kimerant Florida fruit worker now at Orrtanna, and David B. Wantz, Gettysburg R. 1, collided Monday afternoon at 3:10 o'clock at the intersection of West and W. Middle Sts.

Borough police said Blakely was traveling west on W. Middle, when a car operated by Wantz south on West St. pulled out into the path of Blakely.

Police reported that Wantz "stopped for a second," and then continued on. An "interested local minister" followed Wantz car and secured his license number. Borough police met state police, who radioed their station and found the owner of the car from the license plate. Later, according to the report, Wantz reported to state police and was referred to borough police.

Geese Are Killed; Cannot Find Vehicle

But borough police scatched in vain at 2:45 o'clock this morning for a Florida car used car, with three men in it, which allegedly killed a number of Mrs. Charles Harner's geese near Barlow.

Police received the call from Mrs. Harner when she reached the Barlow Service station, after chasing the Florida car in her own vehicle from the time the Florida sedan allegedly struck her geese as they waddled out into the road. Police expressed the opinion that the fast traveling Florida car had passed through town during the time the phone call was made and police began the search.

DEATHS

Harry M. Brady, 86, Hanover R. 4, who collapsed in Hanover last Friday when stricken with a paralytic stroke, died at 4:25 a.m. Monday in the Hanover Hospital.

A son of the late Lewis and Mary Fuller Brady, he was married to Jennie E. Fidler Sept. 22, 1891. Surviving in addition to his wife are 11 children, Earl and Edwin Brady, Edge Grove; the Rev. Carl B. Brady, pastor of St. Rose of Lima Church, York; Sister Rita Teresa, St. Vincent's Convent, Hanover; Sister Pauline Marie, Philadelphia; Sister Mary of St. Bernard, Reading; Miss Estella Brady, Baltimore; Roy J. Brady, Hagerstown; Clyde A. Brady, Melrose, Mass.; and Misses Helen and Irma Brady, York; 19 grandchildren, 33 great-grandchildren, a brother, James Brady, McSherrytown, and four sisters, Mrs. Arthur Noel and Mrs. Paul Lawrence, McSherrytown, and Mrs. Catherine Lawrence and Mrs. Isabelle Lawrence, Irishtown.

A solemn requiem mass will be celebrated by Mr. Brady's son, the Rev. Carl B. Brady, in Sacred Heart Church, Conewago, Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. Burial in Conewago Chapel Cemetery. Friends may call at the Brady home in Edge Grove this evening between 7 and 9 o'clock. Prayers will be said at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Vivian Wolf
Mrs. Vivian C. Wolf, 75, Harrisburg, died in a Harrisburg hospital. She was a member of Christ Lutheran Church, Harrisburg.

Mrs. Wolf is survived by two brothers, L. H. Null, of New York, and the Rev. T. W. Null, of Harney, Md.; a niece and three nephews.

Funeral services were held at 9:30 a.m. today from the funeral home, 1720 Regina St., Harrisburg. The Rev. Dr. Jacob E. Rudisill officiated. Burial was in Mountain View Cemetery, Harney.

CODE VIOLATORS

Hanover police have charged Elizabeth Mahone, 18, New Oxford R. 2, with reckless driving, and John H. Griffie, Abbottstown, with having a leaking load which spilled trash onto the highway.

David W. Klunk, McSherrytown, forfeited $6.45 in Westminster for a stop sign violation, and Ed Yarzobek, McSherrytown, forfeited $11.45 in the same town on a charge of exceeding the 30-mile speed limit.

DRINKS AMMONIA

Elwood Felix, 452 E. Middle St., was reported in a satisfactory condition at the Warner Hospital today where he was treated after drinking ammonia by mistake Monday evening.

BOOKS RITES TODAY

Funeral services were held for the late Miss Beulah Grace Books, of Harrisburg this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Pittenuff's Funeral Home, York Springs. Rev. Norman L. Borlner, pastor of the deceased, officiated. Burial was in the Chestnut Grove Cemetery. The pallbearers were the nephews of the deceased.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times
FIFTY YEARS AGO

Wedding Bells: Peter P. Smith and Miss Emma Genevieve Burkee, both of McSherrystown, were married at noon, Oct. 10th, in the church of the Gesù, Philadelphia, by Rev. Fr. Noel.

The bride is the only daughter of the late Joseph and Martha Burkee, of McSherrystown, and is an attractive and accomplished young lady. She is the organist of St. Mary's church, at that place, and since completing a thorough course in music at St. Mary's Academy, McSherrystown, has taught music successfully for several years. The groom is the youngest son of the late Francis X. and Louisa J. Smith, of McSherrystown, and is manager of the cigar factory of P. X. Smith, Sons and Co., one of the leading firms of that place.

Boyer—Shorb: Miss Grace M. Shorb, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Shorb, of East Berlin, was married last Tuesday on the old historic Carroll's Manor to Charles M. Boyer, of Dover. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Wm. Millar, minister of Manor Lutheran pastorate of Doubs, Md.

The bride is favorably known by many of our people. She having formerly resided in this vicinity.

Straw Ride: A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Sowers, near McKnightstown, last Thursday evening when a party of young folks, from Gettysburg and vicinity, held a straw party at their home. The party consisted of the following: Misses Ruth Bucher, Nell Bream, Daisie Thorn, Cora Bream, Laura Bream, Alma Sowers, Nora Sowers, Grace Bucher, Maude Newman, Hazel Thorn, Maude Bucher, Messrs. Ralph Wierman, Walter Lott, Herbert Ginnell, John Hamilton, Willie Sterner, Edgar Newman, Charles Butt, Samuel Hartzel, Frank Lott, Willie Hartzel, Walter Sterner, Ralph Sterner and Ralph Trimmer.

The evening was spent in music and games, bountiful refreshments were served, consisting of cakes, choice fruit, which were much enjoyed especially "bananas" after which the young folks departed to their homes with the thanks of the host and hostess for the pleasant surprise given them. M.

First Snow: The first snow of the winter was reported Thursday from various parts of Pennsylvania. An inch of snow fell in the mountains and at Greenville there was a heavy snowfall for five hours, causing hundreds of trees to break down under its weight. There was a slight fall at Altoona.

Double Wedding: A double wedding was solemnized in Conewago Chapel Tuesday at 7:30 a.m., Rev. Fr. Eugene Haltermeyer officiating.

The contracting parties were Harry P. Tressler, of Hanover, and Miss Lottie C. Sanders, of near Centennial, and Augustus Shorb and Miss Catharine Murren, both of Centennial.

Taken To Hospital: Mrs. Andrew Ramer who has been quite ill for some time was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, Baltimore, Md., yesterday, by Dr. H. M. Hartman. Mrs. Ramer is slightly improved but Dr. Hartman advised her removal to the hospital.

Priest Transferred: Bishop Shanahan has transferred Rev. Daniel J. Carey, assistant rector of St. Patrick's church, York, to Conewago Chapel, near McSherrystown.

Big Postal Receipts: Postmaster McIlhenny informs us that the September receipts amounted to $1,244, as against $910 for the same month last year. This increase is due to the great amount of souvenir cards sent from this post.

Death Of Dr. D. M. Gilbert: Rev. Dr. D. M. Gilbert, who for the past 18 years has been the loved, honored and respected pastor of Zion Lutheran church, Harrisburg, died suddenly in that city at 6:15

Today's Talk

Do the day's work today, and don't be trapped by yesterdays. You can't carry everything and carry on efficiently if you do. Dr. William Osler, who was Walt Whitman's physician, tells of sitting with him at his little home in Camden, when Whitman suddenly noted a group of workmen passing and exclaimed: "Ah, the glory of the day's work, whether with hand or brain!"

Yesterdays never trapped Whitman. He lived for the day's offerings and reviewed his yesterdays as mere memories and as backgrounds to his Today's. Have no regrets. Live simply. One step at a time. Take all that every day holds out of each experience, never allowing yourself to become trapped by yesterdays. Look for beauty where others see only meanness, and recognize truth in spite of lies, faith in spite of fear and despair. And nobility in everyone, in spite of human blundering. I owe these thoughts and words to my friend Elsie Robinson, who has demonstrated them in her glorious life.

It is easier to be happy than one suspects. Our first step must be to learn the valuable lesson of getting along with oneself. Be your own best friend and others will flock about you wanting to know the secret! E. W. Howe, the noted Kansas editor and philosopher, once wrote a little book in which he stated that it is easier to succeed than it is to fail.

People who allow themselves to be trapped by their yesterdays live in a maze of fears, worries, and disappointments. How wonderful it can be for us all we enter each new day free of all excess baggage. With a mind apporportioned to the tasks and duties at hand, and with a cheerful front to give light to the entire day.

My friend Fitzhugh Greene once told me of the surpassing beauty of Greenland. He said this beauty was set off by white ribbons of snow, reflecting the sunshine. How very wonderful if we all could so reflect ourselves, brightening all about us, and others as well.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Get Excited!"

RETIREMENT

There's a weary sort of look on the roses in the bed.

Some already have retired, as of men it's often said.

But a few are struggling on with the strength they still can spare.

They refuse to drop to sleep while a blossom they can bear.

The others seem to say: "We've worked hard the summer long.

We are old and we are tired and no longer we are strong.

We have bloomed from June to now and we've surely done our best.

We have served as roses must and we've earned the right to rest."

As the brave and rugged rose,

I would like to labor on.

Still to struggle to achieve 'til my strength is wholly gone.

While there still is time to serve, though it's long past afternoon.

I don't want to go to rest just a little bit too soon.

NIXON CLAIMS
PEACE CHANCES
ARE IMPROVED

NEW YORK (P)—Vice President Nixon say "the chances for peace today are better than at any time since World War II."

He adds, however, that the U.S. leaders in the coming negotiations with Russia "will be on the lookout for the real policies of the Kremlin — not merely professions of good will."

Nixon spoke last night at the closing of the 24th annual New York Herald Tribune Forum.

The speech, televised nationally, was his first major address since President Eisenhower became ill. He made a companion speech last night at a dinner of the International Air Transport Assn.

Nixon told the Herald Tribune Forum that it is unfortunate that just before the start of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference at Geneva "we are witnessing what appears to be an attempt to stimulate by proxy an arms race which could increase the chances for armed conflict in the Middle East."

Refers To Czech Offer

This reference apparently was to Communist Czechoslovakia's offer of arms to Egypt.

In listing the forces on the side of peace in the world today, Nixon put the United Nations first and followed it with the strength of the United States and the rest of the free world. He also noted the power of the atom and the new "spirit of Geneva."

He said the "spirit of Geneva" does not mean peace at any price, nor does it condone injustice. "It is not a naive acceptance of good words for good intentions," he added.

He said the spirit is based on the belief that the world is entering an era "when war must be renounced as an instrument of national policy," and the United States will work with nations on both sides of the Iron Curtain "for economic progress, independence, freedom and equality."

REBEL GUNMEN
AMBUSH BUS IN
ALGERIAN RAID

PARIS (P)—Reports of serious new nationalist attacks in Algeria reached Paris today as the National Assembly gathered to decide whether to overthrow Premier Edgar Faure's government.

Bold rebel gunmen ambushed a bus and its military escort in daylight yesterday at El Mizer Pass, on a main highway in north-eastern Algeria. Five of the African armed guard and eight Europeans aboard the bus were killed in the bloody attack, and four other passengers believed to be Algerians were missing.

Town Is Seized

In another section in northeast Algeria, rebel riflemen held the town of Stora, fishing port of about 7,000 three miles northwest of Philippeville, under virtual siege. The insurgents shot up a farm half a mile out, then began firing sporadically at the town from the surrounding foothills. Sailors from the French cruiser Montcalm were rushed in to bulwark Stora's defenses.

ferences, and surrounding farms were evacuated hurriedly.

The renewed bloodshed in Algeria underscored the shaky position of Faure's government, facing an Assembly vote on its generally vague Algerian policy, which has neither satisfied the Nationalist demands for self-rule nor suppressed the rebel violence.

Hours of debate were expected, with the balloting probably to come after midnight.

DELAY CAUSES
FOR SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG (P)—A state official said today more than 100 school districts are involved in "a definite financial crisis" because of a delay by the Legislature in approving state aid for schools.

"It's going to be tough sledding for schools in Pennsylvania unless something is done soon," John Hertz, director of the state Bureau of School Administration, said in an interview.

A $53 million dollar appropriation for regular state school aid for the two-year fiscal period starting last June 1 is stalled in the Legislature because of an impasse on taxes.

Of this $53 millions, 44 millions is due this month to 1,890 fourth class school districts (less than 5,000 population) and 52 millions in November to 348 first, second and third class school districts.

Pays Salaries

These are semi-annual payments principally for teachers' salaries and other instruction costs.

"We have 109 school districts who asked for an advance on their allocations as of Sept. 30," Hertz said. "They have a real problem which, if not solved soon, is going to mean payless paydays and defaulted bonds."

He estimated their requests total between 10 and 15 million dollars. Counties with the most requests include Lackawanna 18, Centre 16, Susquehanna 13, Luzerne 13, Wyoming 9, Schuylkill 8, Fayette 6, Northumberland 5 and Cambria 5.

Have Spent Revenues

Hertz said many of these districts, whose fiscal year started July 1, already have spent local tax revenues to meet their expenses since that date.

"Some school districts get as much as 90 per cent of their finances from the commonwealth," he said. "You can see what happens when that source is choked off."

Some school districts can borrow money, Hertz said, but others can't because they've borrowed to the limit. Additional borrowing authorization on the basis of expected state appropriations is impossible under the law until the appropriation bill is actually passed.

Leader Signs $10,000,000 Bill

He couldn't estimate how much it would cost school districts in interest costs to borrow the necessary money. A bill to set up a $750,000 state fund to pay schools their interest costs because of delays in state aid is dormant in the Senate Education Committee.

Only yesterday, Gov. Leader signed a 10 million dollar deficiency appropriation for first and second class school districts but it is only money due because of a cut imposed last spring when the commonwealth was in a poor cash position.

A companion bill also was signed by Leader. It provides $6,711,000 in deficiencies for the state's

Michigan, Maryland And Oklahoma Top Grid Ten; Four Booted From Leaders

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

The Associated Press

When four football teams which had been listed in the nation's top 10 got kicked out of one weekend and several of the others win without looking particularly good, there's some understandable confusion among the men who pick them.

The sports writers and broadcasters who rate the teams weekly in the Associated Press poll responded to this situation today by putting Michigan, Maryland and Oklahoma in the top three positions for the third straight week—with Oklahoma creeping up on a Maryland team that once was rated first.

The four losers, Notre Dame, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin and Texas Christian, dropped out of the first 10 ratings with the impressive winners of the topsy-turvy weekend moving up to take their places.

76 First Place Votes
Michigan, in spite of a rather rocky game against Northwestern, remained almost stationary in first place with first-place votes of 76 of the 183 participants in this week's poll. Michigan's point total was 1,603. Last week it was 80 firsts and 1,662 points.

Points are scored on the basis of 10 for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc.

Maryland's support for the No. 1 position weakened as Jim Tatum's Terrapins had to stage a strong finish to beat North Carolina 25-7. But there were enough ballots for second and third to keep the Terps in the runner-up spot with 1,487 points to Oklahoma's 1,434. Maryland got only 33 firsts as compared to 45 a week ago while the Sooners drew 29.

Navy Is Fourth
Navy, which flashed to an exciting aerial victory over Penn State, losing its unscathed status but winning its fourth straight game, moved up from eighth place to fourth and Duke, a 20-14 winner over Ohio State, vaulted from 11th to fifth.

Then came Notre Dame's conqueror, Michigan State, followed by UCLA, West Virginia, Auburn and Southern California.

The leaders with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Michigan (76)	1,603
2. Maryland (33)	1,487
3. Oklahoma (29)	1,434
4. Navy (7)	997
5. Duke (15)	907
6. Michigan State (4)	801
7. UCLA (9)	715
8. West Va. (9)	583
9. Auburn (5)	426
10. Southern Cal (1)	253

The Second 10:

11. Notre Dame	242
12. Texas A&M	137
13. Georgia Tech	83
14. Colorado	74
15. Wisconsin	72
16. Baylor	53
17. Boston College (1)	39
18. TCU	30
19. Yale	25
20. Holy Cross	19

Dickinson Will Use Freshmen

CARLISLE, Pa. — Dickinson College, faced with cancelling the remainder of its football games this season, says it will instead use freshman players for the rest of its schedule.

Athletic Director David Favenson said yesterday injuries had reduced the original 26-man squad to 18 and that the use of freshman serves "as the alternative to cancelling remaining games because of a lack of manpower."

Seven freshmen will be in uniform for this Saturday's game with Juniata. Dickinson's remaining games are with Randolph-Macon, Pennsylvania Military College and Johns Hopkins.

204 HOME RUNS ARE CLOUTED IN EBBETS FIELD

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn's Ebbets Field, the ball park the frustrated New York Yankees called a "bandbox," was the favorite target of major league home run hitters in 1955.

The Dodgers' ball yard was the scene of 204 four-baggers during the regular season, figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today. The Brooks bopped 119 at home with the other seven National League clubs netting an aggregate of 85.

Ebbets Field thus supplants Cincinnati's Crosley Field as the slugger's haven. Senior circuit teams smacked 199 home runs in the Redlegs' park and 193 in Brooklyn in 1954. They hit 193 in Cincinnati this year.

180 In Kansas City
American League batters found Kansas City's Municipal Stadium the easiest mark last season, connecting for 180 circuit blows in the majors' newest park. The Athletics hit 70 at home with the opposition collecting 110. Fenway Park, Boston, was next with 163.

Washington's Griffith Stadium was the toughest field in which to hit homers. Only 45 were hit in the Capital City, 20 by the Senators.

Porbes Field in Pittsburgh was the hardest National League field to hit home runs in, with only 32 blows good for the distance, 33 by the home team Pirates.

HAMLIN FROSH LEADS HURLERS

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A gangling 18-year-old freshman from Hamline University is making the passing carnival of the pro football leagues look like a routine penny arcade.

The records compiled by shy Jerry Foley, king of the nation's mail college aerialists, are enough to frighten the bookkeepers.

In his last three games Foley has completed 74 out of 146 throws. In his last two he has averaged 59 passes a game, has a five-game total of 87 for 167 and a cool 52 per cent completion average.

He leads the nation in practically every passing statistic worth mentioning and has made his favorite receiver, 6-5 Dick Donlin, No. 1 among the pass catchers.

Hasn't Won A Game
But Hamline hasn't won a game.

Coach H. D. Montgomery offers the explanation: "We're a green team and we don't have much manpower to speak of. We muddled around with the split-T for the first couple games and it was pretty obvious we weren't going any place."

Well, if you're going to lose, you might as well make it interesting, Montgomery reasoned. "So we chucked the split-T, figured out who was the best passer on the squad, worked out a spread formation and started throwing."

To date, the 6-1 quarterback has run up 1,040 yards through the air and tossed six touchdown passes.

Hopes To Secure Higher Pay For Commission Force

HARRISBURG (AP)—The new boss of Pennsylvania's Fish Commission expressed hope today for action by the end of the year on higher salaries for commission personnel.

"We certainly want to see appropriate equalization and improvement of salaries where feasible," said William C. Voigt following his first meeting with commission members yesterday.

Voigt, a former executive director of the National Isaak Walton League, was named last month to succeed Charles A. French, Ellwood City. It was the first change in the administrative head of the agency in 15 years and came several months after a legislative body had severely criticized the commission's salary practices.

"We definitely want to give comparable pay for comparable work in other states," Voigt said in discussing pay hikes for the commission's 320 employees.

Survey Pay Situation
He disclosed that the commission had named him, H. R. Stackhouse, administrative secretary, and Commissioner John Grenoble, New Bloomfield to survey the entire pay situation.

"This committee will make its report not later than Nov. 1," Voigt said. "We're shooting to correct any possible inequities."

"But you must remember, our budget allotment for the calendar year has been fixed. We are hoping to get something going for the new year," he added.

The House Conservation and Wild Life Committee, authorized to study all Pennsylvania's outdoor resources earlier this year, scales "pitiful." The committee, after a number of interviews with members of the old commission and commission employees, decided salaries paid tended to disrupt morale because they were so low.

Raise Some Salaries
On June 1 a new job classification went into effect raising some salaries. However, the House com-

STREAMS BEGIN NORMAL FLOW

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Only occasional light rain was forecast for eastern Pennsylvania today as rain-gorged rivers and streams continued to fall back to normal.

Heavy weekend rains resulting from a sneak storm at first had threatened the eastern part of the state with serious floods but nothing dangerous materialized. All told seven persons were reported killed in accidents on the state's rain-swept highways.

The upper Susquehanna River, which had got beyond flood stage at Towanda and Wilkes-Barre, was receding in those cities.

The weather bureau forecast a 23-foot stage for the river at Wilkes-Barre today, one foot above flood stage. It was 26.5 feet Sunday night.

The upper Susquehanna also fell back at Sunbury, Williamsport and Harrisburg. The Delaware, the Schuylkill and the Lackawanna, major rivers in the Keystone State sections that bore the brunt of the August floods, also receded a slight distance, but were slowly receding.

JIMMY CARTER SEEKS TO REGAIN BOXING CROWN

By HAROLD HARRISON

CINCINNATI (AP)—Jimmy Carter says he's going to fight a "corrective fight" tomorrow night against Wallace (Bud) Smith when he tries to win the world's lightweight boxing championship for a fourth time.

A look at the record would indicate, however, that the New York Negro has been fighting "corrective fights" each time he has gone into a rematch after losing the crown.

Three times he has lost the title and twice he has regained it. He'll try to win it back for a third time in tomorrow night's 15-rounder in the Cincinnati Garden. Smith won the championship from Carter in a sparsely attended bout in Boston last June 29.

"Naturally, I'm not going to tell you all of the things I noticed from looking at the movies of our last fight," Carter said yesterday. "I made mistakes — and my plan is to correct them. And I will, too."

Smith Is Confident

Smith said, however, "I know I can beat Carter. I did it in Boston and there's no reason why I can't repeat. I can punch harder and that's why I think I'll win."

In spite of the fact this is Smith's home town, Carter seemed to be a slight betting favorite — for what betting there was.

If Carter wins, Smith will join Paddy DeMarco as a fellow who never made a dime from extra-curricular fights as a result of being champion. DeMarco won the title from Carter March 5, 1954, and lost it to the New Yorker on his next time out on Nov. 17 of that year.

Lauro Balas, who was the first to "borrow" the championship from Carter, managed to get in a couple of bouts as champion before he lost in a rematch.

"WAITING FOR GOOD PUNCH"

NEW YORK (AP)—Artie Towne had a ready explanation today for his unimpressive performance against Milo Savage at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

"I was waiting to get in just one good punch," he complained. "But I couldn't."

Towne, 161, won a split decision from Savage in his first start in the United States in a year after a successful campaign in Europe. On the continent, he knocked out a string of Europeans with his punishing right.

The right was nowhere in evidence against Savage, 159, a veteran from Salt Lake City. In fact, the punch that won the decision for him was a left which opened a cut over Savage's right eye in the 10th round.

"It wasn't even a punch," complained Savage, who thought he won. "It was a butt."

Both Referee Barney Felix and the Associated Press thought that Savage, indeed, had won the decision. Both cards had him ahead 5-4. Judge Bert Grant gave it to Towne by a 7-3 margin, and Judge Harold Barnes awarded the decision to Towne on points, 6-5, after calling it even in rounds, 5-5.

The fight was notable only in its lack of action.

Capitalizing on a pair of recovered Gettysburg fumbles, Middletown High School's football team drove to touchdowns in the third and fourth periods to hand the Warriors a 12-0 defeat in a South Penn Conference game Monday evening at Middletown.

Twice in the first half the Warriors halted Blue Raider drives deep within their own territory via recovered fumbles but the tables were turned in the last half as the winless Warriors dropped their fifth game of the campaign and fell into a tie with Waynesboro for last place.

Middletown's first score came midway in the third quarter following a 46-yard march. Joe Tonsel returned the second half kickoff to his 40. On the next play Al Griffith, a stellar performer for the Raiders, pounced on a Gettysburg bobbie on the 46. On two tries Griffith picked up a first down on the 32. Kauffman, Griffith and Richards pounded out another first down on the 21 before Griffith picked up another on the 8.

Last Down TD

The Warriors stiffened considerably at this point but on fourth down with inches to go Richards plunged over. Archer's boot for the point was wide.

Jim Gutschall, Raider tackle, snatched a Warrior fumble on the Gettysburg 26 in the final game which led to another score midway in the period.

In six plays the score was made, Griffith going through a big hole in the Warrior line to score standing up from the 8-yard mark. A pass for the point failed.

No Serious Threat

Gettysburg penetrated enemy territory but twice. Early in the opening period Dick Stough returned Archer's punt to the Gettysburg 34. Fred Furney cracked the line for 9 yards. On the next play Middletown recovered a fumble after the Warriors had advanced the ball to the Raiders' 45.

The only other time Gettysburg reached Middletown territory was late in the final quarter. The Warriors tookover on their own 40 after Archer's kickoff went out-of-bounds following the second Middletown touchdown. Earl Little, bottled up on attempted to pass, raced 11 yards. Furney picked up 5 on a plunge and then Little passed to Stough for a first down on the 28 but a 15-yard penalty against the Warriors stopped the drive.

Twice in the first half Middletown missed scores when fumbles were recovered by the locals. Early in the second stanza Griffith broke away for 18 yards and attempted to lateral the ball to a teammate but a Warrior pounced on the ball on the 5.

Penalty Costly

Weishar punted out to his 35. After picking up a first down on the 19, the Raider attack bogged down again as Gettysburg recovered a Middletown fumble on the 15 shortly before the half ended.

Middletown's victory snapped a three-game losing streak and gave the Raiders their first conference victory in history. Coach Don Seibert's squad is a member of the football conference for the first time this year.

Coach Howard Shoemaker's outfit, with an 0-5-1 overall season record, entertains Hershey here Friday evening in another conference affair.

Michigan, Maryland And Oklahoma Top Grid Ten; Four Booted From Leaders

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

When four football teams which had been listed in the nation's top 10 got licked on one weekend and several of the others win without looking particularly good, there's some understandable confusion among the men who pick them.

The sports writers and broadcasters who rate the teams weekly in the Associated Press poll responded to this situation today by putting Michigan, Maryland and Oklahoma in the top three positions for the third straight week—with Oklahoma creeping up to a Maryland team that once was rated first.

The four losers, Notre Dame, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin and Texas Christian, dropped out of the first 10 ratings with the impressive winners of the topsy-turvy weekend moving up to take their places.

76 First Place Votes
Michigan, in spite of a rather rocky game against Northwestern, remained almost stationary in first place with first-place votes of 76 of the 133 participants in this week's poll. Michigan's point total was 1,603. Last week it was 80 firsts and 1,662 points.

Points are scored on the basis of 10 for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc.

Maryland's support for the No. 1 position weakened as Jim Tatum's Terrapins had to stage a strong finish to beat North Carolina 25-7. But there were enough ballots for second and third to keep the Terps in the runner-up spot with 1,487 points to Oklahoma's 1,434. Maryland got only 33 firsts as compared to 45 a week ago while the Sooners drew 29.

Navy Is Fourth
Navy, which flashed to an exciting aerial victory over Penn State, losing its unscathed status but winning its fourth straight game, moved up from eighth place to fourth and Duke, a 20-14 winner over Ohio State, vaulted from 11th to fifth.

Then came Notre Dame's conqueror, Michigan State, followed by UCLA, West Virginia, Auburn and Southern California.

The leaders with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Michigan (76)	1,603
2. Maryland (33)	1,487
3. Oklahoma (29)	1,434
4. Navy (7)	997
5. Duke (15)	907
6. Michigan State (4)	801
7. UCLA (3)	715
8. West Va. (9)	583
9. Auburn (5)	426
10. Southern Cal (1)	253
The Second 10:
11. Notre Dame	242
12. Texas A&M	137
13. Georgia Tech	83
14. Colorado	74
15. Wisconsin	72
16. Baylor	53

Dickinson Will Use Freshmen

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Dickinson College, faced with cancelling the remainder of its football games this season, says it will instead use freshman players for the rest of its schedule.

Athletic Director David Faversham said yesterday injuries had reduced the original 26-man squad to 18 and that the use of freshmen serves "as the alternative to cancelling remaining games because of a lack of manpower."

Seven freshmen will be in uniform for this Saturday's game with Juniata. Dickinson's remaining games are with Randolph-Macon, Pennsylvania Military College and Johns Hopkins.

204 HOME RUNS ARE CLOUTED IN EBBETS FIELD

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn's Ebbets Field, the ball park the frustrated New York Yankees called a "bandbox," was the favorite target of major league home run hitters in 1955.

The Dodgers' ball yard was the scene of 204 four-baggers during the regular season, figures compiled by the Associated Press revealed today. The Brooks walloped 119 at home with the other seven National League clubs netting an aggregate of 35.

Ebbets Field thus supplants Cincinnati's Crosley Field as the slugger's haven. Senior circuit teams smacked 190 home runs in the Redlegs' park and 193 in Brooklyn in 1954. They hit 193 in Cincinnati this year.

180 In Kansas City
American League batters found Kansas City's Municipal Stadium the easiest mark last season, connecting for 180 circuit blows in the majors' newest park. The Athletics hit 70 at home with the opposition collecting 110. Fenway Park, Boston, was next with 163.

Washington's Griffith Stadium was the toughest field in which to hit homers. Only 45 were hit in the Capital City, 20 by the Senators.

Forbes Field in Pittsburgh was the hardest National League field to hit home runs in, with only 82 blows good for the distance, 35 by the home team Pirates.

HAMLINE FROSH LEADS HURLERS

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A gangling 18-year-old freshman from Hamline University is making the passing carnival of the pro football leagues look like a routine penny arcade.

The records compiled by shy Jerry Foley, king of the nation's mail college aerialists, are enough to frighten the bookkeepers.

In his last three games Foley has completed 74 out of 146 throws. In his last two he has averaged 59 passes a game, has a five-game total of 87 for 167 and a cool 52 per cent completion average.

He leads the nation in practically every passing statistic worth mentioning and has made his favorite receiver, 6-5 Dick Donlin, No. 1 among the pass catchers.

Hasn't Won A Game
But Hamline hasn't won a game. What goes?

Coach H. D. Montgomery offers the explanation: "We're a green team and we don't have much manpower to speak of. We muddled around with the split-T for the first couple games and it was pretty obvious we weren't going any place."

Well, if you're going to lose, you might as well make it interesting, Montgomery reasoned. "So we chucked the split-T, figured out who was the best passer on the squad, worked out a spread formation and started throwing."

To date, the 6-1 quarterback has run up 1,040 yards through the air and tossed six touchdown passes.

Hopes To Secure Higher Pay For Commission Force

HARRISBURG (AP)—The new boss of Pennsylvania's Fish Commission expressed hope today for action, by the end of the year on higher salaries for commission personnel.

"We certainly want to see appropriate equalization and improvement of salaries where feasible," said William C. Voigt following his first meeting with commission members yesterday.

Voigt, a former executive director of the National Isaak Walton League, was named last month to succeed Charles A. French, Ellwood City. It was the first change in the administrative head of the agency in 15 years and came several months after a legislative body had severely criticized the commission's salary practices.

"We definitely want to give comparable pay for comparable work in other states," Voigt said in discussing pay hikes for the commission's 320 employees.

Survey Pay Situation
He disclosed that the commission had named him, H. R. Stackhouse, administrative secretary, and Commissioner John Grenoble, New Bloomfield to survey the entire pay situation.

"This committee will make its report not later than Nov. 1," Voigt said. "We're shooting to correct any possible inequities."

"But you must remember, our budget allotment for the calendar year has been fixed. We are hoping to get something going for the new year," he added.

The House Conservation and Wildlife Committee, authorized to study all Pennsylvania's outdoors resources earlier this year, scales "pitiful." The committee, after a number of interviews with members of the old commission and commission employees, decided salaries paid tended to disrupt morale because they were so low.

Raise Some Salaries
On June 1 a new job classification went into effect raising some salaries. However, the House committee took the position the increases were inadequate.

During hearings on fish matters the committee investigated whether the intent of the 1953 Legislature regarding commission salaries had been carried out. Two years ago the fishing license fee was raised 50 cents a year, to $2.50, for the expressed purpose of increasing commission salaries.

At present fish wardens get from $3,600 to $4,200 a year with salaries of other employees much lower.

At the same time, Voigt declared that commission employment matters are being handled outside party patronage.

No Patronage Obstacle
"We have had assurances from the administration that our employment practices are not to be governed by patronage rules," he said. "We will hire people entirely upon their qualifications to do the work to be performed."

Voigt said the commission was excluded from patronage matters because it is supported by money paid directly into the fish fund and not by general tax receipts.

The new executive director also outlined an eight-point program which he said the commission had approved. "In principle,"

The program which must still be worked out in detail embraces:

1. Additional efforts toward pollution abatement and control;
2. Lake and stream management programs;
3. Control of rough or "trash" fish;

4. Construction and acquisition of more waters to be used by the public;
5. Encouraging the construction of farm ponds and similar small waters that can help relieve some of the pressure on heavily fished waters;

6. Encouraging opening of private waters to public use;
7. Judicious use of fish rearing capabilities of existing natural waters;
8. Judicious use of existing state hatchery facilities.

STREAMS BEGIN NORMAL FLOW

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Only occasional light rain was forecast for eastern Pennsylvania today as rain-gorged rivers and streams continued to fall back to normal.

Heavy weekend rains resulting from a sneak storm at first had threatened the eastern part of the state with serious floods but nothing dangerous materialized. All told seven persons were reported killed in accidents on the state's rain-swept highways.

The upper Susquehanna River, which had got beyond flood stage at Towanda and Wilkes-Barre, was receding in those cities.

The weather bureau forecast a 23-foot stage for the river at Wilkes-Barre today, one foot above flood stage. It was 26.5 feet Sunday night.

The upper Susquehanna also fell back at Sunbury, Williamsport and Harrisburg. The Delaware, the Schuylkill and the Lackawanna, major rivers in the Keystone State sections that bore the brunt of the August floods, also caused a slight flooding, but were slowly receding.

JIMMY CARTER SEEKS TO REGAIN BOXING CROWN

By HAROLD HARRISON
CINCINNATI (AP)—Jimmy Carter says he's going to fight a "corrective fight" tomorrow night against Wallace "Bud" Smith when he tries to win the world's lightweight boxing championship for a fourth time.

A look at the record would indicate, however, that the New York Negro has been fighting "corrective fights" each time he has gone into a rematch after losing the crown.

Three times he has lost the title and twice he has regained it. He'll try to win it back for a third time in tomorrow night's 15-rounder in the Cincinnati Garden. Smith won the championship from Carter in a sparsely attended bout in Boston last June 29.

"Naturally, I'm not going to tell you all of the things I noticed from looking at the movies of our last fight," Carter said yesterday. "I made mistakes — and my plan is to correct them. And I will, too."

Smith Is Confident
Smith said, however, "I know I can beat Carter. I did it in Boston and there's no reason why I can't repeat. I can punch harder and that's why I think I'll win."

In spite of the fact this is Smith's home town, Carter seemed to be a slight betting favorite — for what betting there was.

If Carter wins, Smith will join Paddy DeMarco as a fellow who never made a dime from extra-curricular fights as a result of being champion. DeMarco won the title from Carter March 5, 1954, and lost it to the New Yorker on his next time out on Nov. 17 of that year.

Lauro Salas, who was the first to "borrow" the championship from Carter, managed to get in a couple of bouts as champion before he lost in a rematch.

One reason of course for Smith's inactivity since winning the championship is that he suffered a bad cut in the first round. But Carter was carved up even worse and has been on the inactive list ever since.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Wedding Bells: Peter F. Smith and Miss Emma Genevieve Burkee, both of McSherrystown, were married at noon, Oct. 10th, in the church of the Gesù, Philadelphia, by Rev. Fr. Noc.

The bride is the only daughter of the late Joseph and Martha Burkee, of McSherrystown, and is an attractive and accomplished young lady. She is the organist of St. Mary's church, at that place, and since completing a thorough course in music at St. Mary's Academy, McSherrystown, has taught music successfully for several years. The groom is the youngest son of the late Francis X. and Louisa J. Smith, of McSherrystown, and is manager of the cigar factory of F. X. Smith, Sons and Co., one of the leading firms of that place.

Boyer-Shorb: Miss Grace M. Shorb, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Shorb, of East Berlin, was married last Tuesday on the old historic Carroll's Manor to Charles M. Boyer, of Dover. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. Wm. Millar, minister of Manor Lutheran pastorate of Doubs, Md.

The bride is favorably known by many of our people. She having formerly resided in this vicinity.

Straw Ride: A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Sowers, near McKnightstown, last Thursday evening when a party of young folks, from Gettysburg and vicinity, held a straw party at their home. The party consisted of the following: Misses Ruth Bucher, Nell Bream, Dabie Thorn, Corn Bream, Laura Bream, Alma Sowers, Nora Sowers, Grace Bucher, Maude Newman, Hazel Thorn, Maude Bucher, Messis Ralph Wierman, Walter Lott, Herbert Gungell, John Hamilton, Willie Sterner, Edgar Newman, Charles Butt, Samuel Hartzel, Frank Lott, Willie Hartzel, Walter Sterner, Ralph Sterner and Ralph Trimmer.

The evening was spent in music and games, bountiful refreshments were served, consisting of cakes, choice fruit, which were much enjoyed especially "bananas" after which the young folks departed to their homes with the thanks of the host and hostess for the pleasant surprise given them, M.

First Snow: The first snow of the winter was reported Thursday from various parts of Pennsylvania. An inch of snow fell in the mountains and at Greenville there was a heavy snowfall for five hours, causing hundreds of trees to break down under its weight. There was a slight fall at Altoona.

Double Wedding: A double wedding was solemnized in Conewago Chapel Tuesday at 7.30 a.m. Rev. Fr. Eugene Haltermeyer officiating.

The contracting parties were Harry P. Trexler, of Hanover, and Miss Lottie C. Sanders, of near Centomani, and Augustus Shorb and Miss Catharine Murren, both of Centomani.

Taken To Hospital: Mrs. Andrew Ramer was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, Baltimore, Md., yesterday by Dr. H. M. Hartman. Mrs. Ramer is slightly improved but Dr. Hartman advised her removal to the hospital.

Priest Transferred: Bishop Shanahan has transferred Rev. Daniel J. Carey, assistant rector of St. Patrick Church, York, to Conewago Chapel, near McSherrystown.

Big Postal Receipts: Postmaster McIlhenny informs us that the September receipts amounted to $1,244, as against $810 for the same month last year. This increase is due to the great amount of souvenir cards sent from this post.

Death Of Dr. D. M. Gilbert: Rev. Dr. D. M. Gilbert, who for the past 18 years has been the loved, honored and respected pastor of Zion Lutheran church, Harrisburg, died suddenly in that city at 6:15

Today's Talk

Do the day's work today, and don't be trapped by yesterdays. You can't carry everything and carry on efficiently if you do. Dr. William Osler, who was Walt Whitman's physician, tells of sitting with him at his little home in Camden, when Whitman suddenly noted a group of workmen passing and exclaimed "Ah, the glory of the day's work, whether with hand or brain!"

Yesterdays never trapped Whitman. He lived for the day's offerings and reviewed his yesterdays as mere memories and as back-grounds to his Today's. Have no regrets. Live simply. One step at a time. Take all that every day holds out of each experience, never allowing yourself to become trapped by yesterdays. Look for beauty where others see only meanness, and recognize truth in spite of lies, faith in spite of fear and despair. And nobility in everyone, in spite of human blundering. I owe these thoughts and words to my friend Elsie Robinson who has demonstrated them in her glorious life. It is easier to be happy than one suspects. Our first step must be to learn the valuable lesson of getting along with oneself. Be your own best friend and others will flock about you wanting to know the secret! E. W. Howe, the noted Kansas editor and philosopher, once wrote a little book in which he stated that it is easier to succeed than it is to fail.

People who allow themselves to be trapped by their yesterdays live in a maze of fears, worries, and disappointments. How wonderful it can be for us all we enter each new day free of all excess baggage. With a mind apportioned to the tasks and duties at hand, and with a cheerful front to give light to the entire day.

My friend Fitzhugh Greene once told me of the surpassing beauty of Greenland. He said this beauty was set off by white ribbons of snow, reflecting the sunshine. How very wonderful if we all could so reflect ourselves, brightening all about us, and others as well.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Get Excited!" Protected, 1955 By The George Mathews Adams Service

Just Folks

RETIREMENT

There's a weary sort of look on the roses in the bed. Some already have retired, as of men it's often said.

But a few are struggling on with the strength they still can spare. They refuse to drop to sleep while a blossom they can bear.

The others seem to say: "We've worked hard the summer long. We are old and we are tired and no longer we are strong.

We have bloomed from June to now and we've surely done our best. We have served as roses must and we've earned the right to rest."

As the brave and rugged rose, I would like to labor on. Still to struggle to achieve 'til my strength is wholly gone.

While there still is time to serve, though it's long past afternoon.

I don't want to go to rest just a little bit too soon.

ARE IMPROVED

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Nixon said "the chances for peace today are better than at any time since World War II."

He adds, however, that the U.S. leaders in the coming negotiations with Russia "will be on the lookout for the real policies of the Kremlin — not merely professions of good will."

Nixon spoke last night at the closing of the 24th annual New York Herald Tribune Forum.

The speech, telecast nationally, was his first major address since President Eisenhower became ill. He made a companion speech last night at a dinner of the International Air Transport Assn.

Nixon told "the Herald Tribune Forum" that it is unfortunate that just before the start of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference at Geneva "we are witnessing what appears to be an attempt to stimulate by proxy an arms race which could increase the chances for armed conflict in the Middle East."

Refers To Czech Offer
This reference apparently was to Communist Czechoslovakia's offer of arms to Egypt.

In listing the forces on the side of peace in the world today, Nixon put the United Nations first and followed it with the strength of the United States and the rest of the free world. He also noted the power of the atom and the new "spirit of Geneva."

He said the "spirit of Geneva" does not mean peace at any price, nor does it condone injustice. "It is not a naive acceptance of good words for good intentions," he added.

He said the spirit is based on the belief that the world is entering an era "when war must be renounced as an instrument of national policy," and the United States will work with nations on both sides of the Iron Curtain "for economic progress, independence, freedom and equality."

REBEL GUNMEN
AMBUSH BUS IN
ALGERIAN RAID

PARIS (AP)—Reports of serious new nationalist attacks in Algeria reached Paris today as the National Assembly gathered to decide whether to overthrow Premier Edgar Faure's government.

Bold rebel gunmen ambushed a bus and its military escort in daylight yesterday, at El Mzai Pass, on a main highway in north-eastern Algeria. Five of the African armed guard and eight Europeans aboard the bus were killed in the bloody attack and four other passengers believed to be Algerians were missing.

Town Is Seized
In another section in northeast Algeria, rebel gunmen held the town of Stora, fishing port of about 7,000 three miles northwest of Philippeville under virtual siege. The insurgents shot up a farm half a mile out, then began firing sporadically at the town from the surrounding foothills. Sailors from the French cruiser Montcalm were rushed in to bolster Stora's defenses.

FINANCE WOES
FOR SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG (AP)—A state official said today more than 100 school districts are involved in "a definite financial crisis" because of a delay by the Legislature in approving state aid for schools.

"It's going to be tough sledding for schools in Pennsylvania unless something is done soon," John Hertz, director of the state Bureau of School Administration, said in an interview.

A $35 million dollar appropriation for regular state school aid for the two-year fiscal period starting last June 1 is stalled in the Legislature because of an impasse on taxes.

Of this $35 millions, 44 millions is due this month to 1,890 fourth class school districts (less than 5,000 population) and 52 millions in November to 348 first, second and third class school districts.

Pays Salaries

These are semi-annual payments principally for teachers' salaries and other instruction costs.

"We have 109 school districts who asked for an advance on their allocations as of Sept. 30," Hertz said. "They have a real problem which, if not solved soon, is going to mean payless paydays and defaulted bonds."

He estimated their requests total between 10 and 15 million dollars. Counties with the most requests include Lackawanna 18, Centre 16, Susquehanna 13, Luzerne, 13, Wyoming 9, Schuylkill 8, Fayette 6, Northumberland 5 and Cambria 5.

Have Spent Revenues

Hertz said many of these districts, whose fiscal year started July 1, already have spent local tax revenues to meet their expenses since that date.

"Some school districts get as much as 90 per cent of their finances from the commonwealth," he said. "You can see what happens when that source is choked off."

Some school districts can borrow money, Hertz said, but others can't because they've borrowed to the limit. Additional borrowing authorization on the basis of expected state appropriations is impossible under the law until the appropriation bill is actually passed.

Leader Signs $10,000,000 Bill

He couldn't estimate how much it would cost school districts in interest costs to borrow the necessary money. A bill to set up a $750,000 state fund to pay schools their interest costs because of delays in state aid is dormant in the Senate Education Committee.

Only yesterday, Gov. Leader signed a 10 million dollar deficiency appropriation for first and second class school districts, but it is only money due because of a cut imposed last spring when the commonwealth was in a poor cash position.

FAULTY WIRING TAXES MOTORS, INCREASES COST

If you have to replace fuses often . . . if the picture shrinks on your TV screen when an appliance is turned on . . . the electric coffee-maker takes twice as long as it should . . . and "convenience" outlets are a jungle of tangled wires . . . you can rest assured you're not alone. In fact 19 out of 20 homes — including new ones — are not wired for modern electric living. There were less than a score of different electrical appliances in popular use 25 years ago. Today, the number is close to 60 with additional ones gaining popular favor as well.

An electrical system that allowed a plentiful flow of current to your platoon of electrical appliances a few years ago just can't carry the load needed for the corps of appliances added since that time. Thus, appliances seem less efficient than before . . . and they are, because electric wiring like water piping has just so much capacity and vastly increased use requires more wiring to handle it. Many homeowners think they are "saving" money by trying to get by with inadequate wiring. Actually, this slows down appliances and overloads electric motors in refrigerators, dishwashers, vacuum cleaners and other motor-driven appliances. Among the readily apparent symptoms of inadequate home wiring are:

Symptoms Of Bad Wiring
Lights flicker and dim and appliances are turned on.
Appliances operate slowly or not as well as they should. Heat appliances — such as toasters, irons, room heaters — warm-up too slowly. Fuses blow or circuit-breakers trip too frequently.

TV pictures shrink in size or "wince" when other appliances go into action.

Multiple "octopus" connections used to connect a number of appliances and lamps.

Long cords strung around rooms or under rugs in order to connect lamps or appliances.

Minimum requirements of the 1955 Adequate Wiring Standard call for a 100-ampere service. The amount of intensity of electricity flowing, comparable to the thickness of faucet stream, is measured in amperes. Investigation will probably show that you have no more than 60-ampere service and possibly less.

100-ampere service enables you to draw 23,000 watts at one time. From the name plates on your appliances, and don't forget lamp bulbs, you should be able to easily calculate your total load current. You'll probably be surprised how large it is. And though you probably would never turn everything on at once, you'll immediately realize that, with your present appliances plus those planned for the near future, a 100-ampere service is essential to your enjoyment of modern electrical living.

ABC'S Of Good Wiring
The ABC's of having adequate wiring in your home are: (a) a large enough service entrance capacity; (b) enough appliance circuits and lighting circuits with large enough wire; (c) enough outlets and switches properly located, for the greatest convenience. Adequate wiring is easy to acquire and the cost involved is small when weighed against all the resulting benefits and values. Many banks offer loans to provide for such

WORKING TIME IS REDUCED BY AUTOMATIC AID

The average happy bride, who says "I do" so eagerly, might be somewhat less cheerful if she realized she was facing a sentence of five and a half years of hard labor. She is pledging, indirectly, to do the family washing for the rest of her life! In many homes this means lifting 92 tons of wet laundry, walking 45 miles, and making 1,176,000 motions each year as she washes, dries, and irons the clothes and linens.

Home economists of one laundry appliance manufacturing concern decided to find out just how much a woman gains by using modern home laundry equipment. Applying the same basic scientific methods used to reduce time and motion in the factory, where every lost minute or movement means lost dollars, the economists repeatedly followed housewives through the job of doing the washing.

They were as thorough in their time studies as their engineer associates would have been in testing time and motion required to cover an automatic dryer with gleaming white enamel. They did the testing twice. The first time, the housewife used an electric wringer washer, an old fashioned clothesline, and a hand iron. The next time home improvements as adequate wiring. But when planning to bring your wiring up to adequate levels, the wisest thing to do is to consult either an experienced electrical contractor or electric company representative and be sure.

Working Time Cut
The results were astounding. Working time was cut by 60 per cent; but that wasn't the entire story. The tons of weight lifting — dripping clothes, heavy laundry baskets, and the weight of the iron — dropped from 92 tons to two and a half tons!

Almost as spectacular was the difference in distance walked in each method of doing the laundry. The old-fashioned way took 45 miles. This included steps from the machine to the rinse tub, from the laundry room out to the yard, from one end of the clothesline to the other and back again. But it also took into account the steps from the ironing board to the rack where the freshly-ironed clothes and linens were hung. With a modern laundry consisting of an automatic washer, clothes dryer and ironer, the miles were cut from 45 to two.

Finally, the economists found that the number of manual motions was cut from 1,176,000 to 453,000.

BEEHIVE BANK FAILS
MCARTHUR, Ohio — Art Largent used a beehive for a bank and got stung. But the bees weren't to blame. He put $800 of his savings in a glass jar and hid it in a beehive. Someone stole $400 from the jar.

MIXED CRASH
KINGSVILLE, Tex. — A safety director and funeral home owner were involved in a minor traffic mishap.

Temperature, Air Differ In Dryers

When you shop, ask for demonstrations and look for features you like. While all automatic electric dryers have the same basic operating principals and are similar in size and capacity, they differ in many details.

Operating temperatures and air velocities vary. Tumblers (cylinders) are of different designs. Check the two general types — time-controlled and temperature-controlled. Some dryers dry faster than others.

Remember that their performance depends greatly on the quantity of water extracted by your washer. The more water the washer extracts, the faster the drying time. Some dryers have special lint and soil removal features. Some have a signal that tells when drying is completed.

Most continue the tumbling action for a few minutes after the heat is automatically turned off, to cool the fabrics before unloading.

Look for the make that suits you best. Ask your husband to check mechanical features. Take first cost and operating cost into consideration. Check maker's and dealer's reputation for quality of product and reliable service. Check people who own dryers.

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. — A. L. Richards complained he worked three hours getting a swarm of bees from a tree into a hive. While he was away for a little while, somebody swiped the hive.

CLOTHES DRYER GUARANTEE FOR FREE WEEKEND

As satisfying as it is to watch kids grow up, it takes a pretty fair share of the budget to keep them in clothes that fit. Luckily, most of their clothes are washable. This fact doesn't solve the problem, but at least it defines it.

Trying to stretch even a washable wardrobe for 10 days (while the next batch of clothes goes through the laundering process) requires a staggering number of complete changes. And, it's a year 'round problem. During the school year you want the small fry to look their best, and during the summer they have so much more time for getting dirty — not that it ever takes them long!

Many mothers have learned that owning an electric clothes dryer is a sensible way out. It not only simplifies the laundry problem, it cuts the clothing budget. Once you no longer have to struggle with wet laundry, you'll find it wonderfully convenient to do several washings a week. It follows — the oftener you wash, the fewer clothes you need, the more money you save.

Offers Great Savings
An electric clothes dryer offers even greater savings. All your clothes will look better and last longer when they aren't forced to suffer from sun-fading and clothes-pin-stretching.

Then, too, a dryer will do all sorts of special jobs. When the youngsters appear at noon with soaked snowsuits, for instance, you simply turn the suits inside out, pop them into your electric clothes dryer and they'll be completely dry by the time the kids are ready to go back to school.

From the time you start your family (baby's layette is much smaller when there's an electric clothes dryer in the house) until the kids start families of their own, college laundry can be washed, dried and maked back the same day! you'll find a dryer not only saves time and work — it saves money, too.

NEW LONDON, Conn. — Harry Jones, "rubber man" in a carnival, broke his left leg while dismantling his booth.

Dryers Do Best Job With Similar Items

It's easy to use your dryer efficiently. When you wash several loads of clothes on one day, sort your items into loads that can be dried together — that is, combine items of similar fabric and weight.

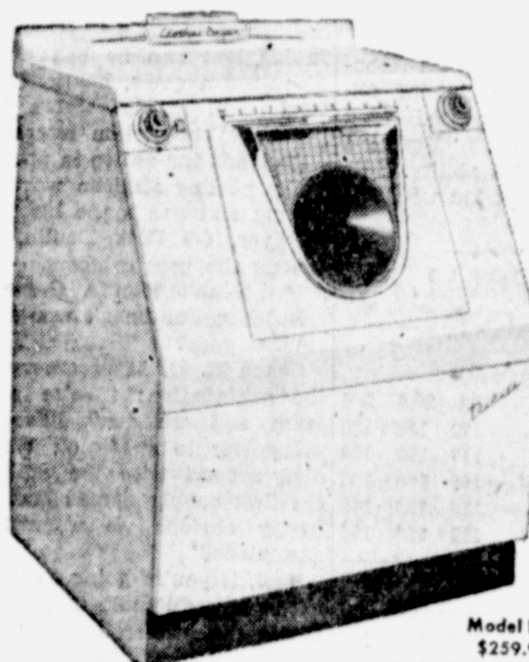

Your first load should be the one that takes the least drying time, so your dryer will be free when the next batch is ready to be dried. Keep heavy Turkish towels until last, for they will take the longest time.

If you wash clothes every day or so, your problem will be one of drying a mixed load. In such a load you will have some items that you want to remove while they're slightly damp for ironing, some pieces that will dry quickly, and some heavy terry towels or bath mats that will take longer to dry. Set your time dial for the lightest-weight fabrics, and remove these items first. Then continue to reset the time dial as needed until the load is completed.

You'll find it handy to put small items like socks, gloves, etc., in a small mesh bag; you save time by keeping them all together.

140 F. WATER CLEANS MORE EFFECTIVELY

Scientists have proved that water 140 degrees F gets clothes cleaner . . . faster. It is most effective for white or colorfast cottons and linens as well as for dark-colored dungarees and work clothes. Remember, these items make up the bulk of your wash. Really hot water is more efficient because:

1. It melts certain greasy soils . . . such as butter on tablecloths or oily deposits on collar bands . . . making them easier to flush out.
2. It releases deeply imbedded dirt quickly. This is particularly true of cottons and linens because hot water makes the fabrics more pliable so soap really gets into the fibers and gets the dirt out.
3. It dissolves soap quickly . . . makes it go to work very much faster.
4. It helps protect the family's health. Tests made by a leading university prove that water of 140 degrees F kills most common, harmful bacteria . . . very important when there's sickness in the house.

Set Automatic High
If you are washing with an automatic washer, be sure your water heater is set at least at 140 degrees F . . . or higher. Hands do not touch the water nor the hot clothes, so you can use water hot enough to gain the advantages mentioned.

If you are washing with conventional washer and must transfer clothes to a wringer, a clothes stick is often helpful for getting clothes out of the hot water.

If you must wash by hand . . . obviously the water cannot be hotter than the hands can stand . . . even though this means decreased washing efficiency.

But remember . . . such fibers as wool and silk are weakened by heat. Wool "felts" or mats together in too hot water . . . causing excessive shrinkage and a harsh feel. However, these fibers will get clean in lower temperature water for fortunately, by their very structure they release soil more easily than does either cotton or linen.

Non-colorfast articles, too, must be pampered with tepid water . . . even though they may be made from a fiber which should have the highest temperature for effective cleansing.

Knitted Things Need Special Drying Care

Home economists say a good way to guard against shrinkage of T-shirts and knit underwear is to dry them in the same load as Turkish towels, which keep knit things from getting too dry.

After about 20 minutes, the knit pieces can be removed, folded, and placed on top of the dryer. There they can finish drying while the towels continue to tumble.

ELECTRIC DRYER DRIES EVENLY BY TUMBLING

Automatic Electric dryers tumble the clothes about 50 times a minute through warm air. The heat comes from the heating element located outside the tumbler and is circulated by a fan. Tumbling the clothes exposes their surfaces to the air for even drying. The tumbling action comes from a rotating drum or cylinder inside the cabinet.

Most dryers have a time dial, which the user sets for the length of time she wants the clothes to dry. With experience, the homemaker can determine how long to set the dial for dry clothes or for clothes of the right dampness to iron without sprinkling. Many dryers also have a dial which can be set for "Low," "Medium" or "High," depending on the fabrics being dried. One manufacturer has a "Dry-dial," which is set for "Dry" or for any degree of dampness. This dryer automatically shuts off when the degree of dryness selected is reached . . . and this single dial automatically adjusts the dryer to the kind of fabric being dried.

Vent Dryer Through Window
Heat and moisture are fanned out of the dryer into the room. In warm weather, windows and doors can be opened to ventilate the room. However, to take care of all kinds of weather, the most satisfactory arrangement is to vent the dryer through a window directly outdoors. This is a very inexpensive way to take care of the moisture from the dryer.

Lint from clothes line-dried outdoors is blown away and the homemaker never sees it. However, lint in a dryer is either vented directly outdoors along with the steam . . . or it is collected in a lint trap. This can be easily cleaned by brushing. A vacuum cleaner can also be used to clean the lint trap.

This may be fun for the children but it's no fun for mother. The solution is an automatic laundry. It requires little space and the basement can be remodeled into a permanent recreation room suitable for the pleasant place to work and play—thanks to Electric Laundry equipment.

OVERLOADING CUTS RESULTS OF WASHERS

Like any other appliance, an automatic washer cannot do an efficient job if it is overloaded. The average capacity of an automatic washer is 9 pounds of clothes, dry weight. Whenever possible, make-up mixed loads including both large and small items (for instance, one double sheet or two single sheets plus 7 pounds of smaller items). Below is a weight chart of many

Most electric dryers use a 230-volt connection, the same as an electric range or water heater. These dryers take less than an hour to dry a full load (nine pounds, dry weight) of clothes. There are a few electric dryers which operate on 115 volts. These require longer drying time, but they are particularly desirable for homes which do not have heavy-duty wiring.

common pieces in the average wash. Use it as a guide for making up loads of proper size.

Luncheon Napkins	16
Pillowcases	3
Linen Towels	6
Bath Towels	2
Men's Shirts	2
Children's Dresses	2 or 4
Women's Dresses	2 or 3
A double sheet weighs about	2 pounds

On some models of automatic washers, the washing compartment is self-cleaning.

Clean Periodically
On those that are not, follow the manufacturer's cleaning instructions.

Where a lint trap is provided, it should be removed periodically and flushed under running water.

The enamel exterior surface and chrome trim are kept gleaming by wiping with a clean, damp cloth.

from time to time. An occasional waxing provides extra protection. Since most models have sealed-in lifetime lubrication, no oiling or greasing is necessary.

Leave door of washer compartment ajar for ventilation when washer is not in use. Turn water off at faucet when washing is completed. This prevents any strain on the rubber hose which might be caused by variation in city water pressure.

Iowans Keep Fire Watch In Illinois

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Davenport, Ia., twice spotted a fire in Rock Island before Rock Islanders were aware of it.

DRYER DIALING INSURES PUSH BUTTON EASE

Modern "push button" living has progressed so rapidly that few of today's homemakers know how their modern appliances really work — they only know what these appliances will do! This is especially true of those efficient appliances with dials, buttons or finger tip controls that merely require a push or pull to start.

Women pay little attention to the mechanics involved in drying clothes. They are primarily interested in getting their clothes dry in the shortest time possible and with a minimum amount of work. They only know that if they toss an armload of wet wash in the dryer and push a button or two they'll soon have a pile of fluffy, clean-smelling garments ready to be folded and put away. Yet, the intricate workings of the dryer would be extremely interesting and informative to any homemaker who spends a few minutes studying them.

The woman who throws a pile of delicate fabric clothes in the dryer — such as acetates, dacron, orlon etc. — knows she has only to set the fabric dial and turn on the timer. She knows the machine will automatically dry her clothes thoroughly, yet gently, and they will be completely safe during the process. What she doesn't often know is why they are dried safely.

Easy Operation
Any woman can learn the why of her automatic dryer, if she will take the necessary few minutes to do so. Knowing why her dryer reacts the way it does will give her complete confidence in laundering any garment. At the same time, armed with this knowledge, she can hold her own in any conversation — which is more than most husbands can do when asked why the car starts when the starter button is pushed!

The housewife has two ready sources of information on dryer operation. She can ask her dealer's help in explaining how her dryer functions, or she can consult literature printed by the manufacturer of her dryer.

Michigan Schoolman Teaches All Grades

WATERVLIET, Mich. (AP) — Dwight Brink, 35, Michigan's Rural School Teacher of the Year, debunks the idea that some children don't like school.

Brink teaches all eight grades in his 35-pupil school.

Bees, Like People, Meaner When Older

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A. P. Burckard, whose hobby is bees, got a new Italian colony by mail. The postoffice buzzed it to him in a hurry.

Bees, Burckard said, need a new young queen occasionally or the swarm gets darker — and meaner. Also, the older the bees the more likely they are to sting.

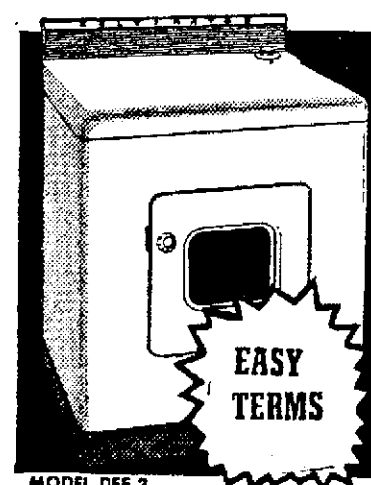

TIPS ON DRYING WOOL BLANKETS

Five steps to follow when drying woolen blankets in automatic dryers are listed below:

1. Dry one blanket at a time in an automatic clothes dryer.
2. Preheat the dryer 5 minutes before placing blanket in the dryer.
3. Prior to preheating, place 6 or 7 full-sized dry Turkish towels in the dryer and allow to remain while blanket is drying. These hot towels will serve as buffers preventing any excessive mechanical action on the woolen fabric.
4. With a 230-volt dryer, set the dial at "Dry." Shut dryer off at the end of 20 minutes. With a 115-volt dryer, average drying time is 30 minutes.
5. When blanket is dry, remove immediately from dryer, shake, fold and put away. If you wish binding may be pressed.

Dryer is available in White or your choice of Fetal Pink, Turquoise Green, Canary Yellow, Cadet Blue, or Woodtone Brown.

NO GUESSING ABOUT PROPER DRYING

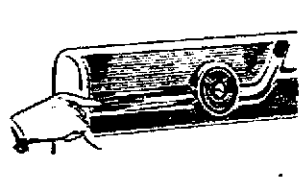

Just set the Automatic Control Dial according to the fabrics you're going to dry:

- D — for delicate synthetics and other easy-to-dry fabrics
- M — for normal cottons and linens and mixed loads
- H — for heavy, hard-to-dry washables

...each load is dried and conditioned just right — automatically! Use the same dial for damp-drying, sprinkling or fluffing clothes — automatically!

"SUNSHINE FRESH" WITHOUT SUN-FADING
As clothes are gently tumbled and fluffed, new GE Air Freshener adds a fresh, "breezy-day" fragrance.

COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC ON EITHER 115 OR 230 VOLTS
Choose 230-volt operation for "speed" drying — or 115-volt operation to avoid special wiring and save as much as 20% in current consumption.

140 F. WATER CLEANS MORE EFFECTIVELY

Scientists have proved that water 140 degrees F gets clothes cleaner . . . faster. It is most effective for white or colorfast cottons and linens as well as for dark-colored dungarees and work clothes. Remember, these items make up the bulk of your wash. Really hot water is more efficient because:

1. It melts certain greasy soils . . . such as butter on tablecloths or oily deposits on collar bands . . . making them easier to flush out.
2. It releases deeply imbedded dirt quickly. This is particularly true of cottons and linens because hot water makes the fabrics more pliable . . . so soap really gets into the fibers and gets the dirt out.
3. It dissolves soap quickly . . . makes it go to work very much faster.
4. It helps protect the family's health. Tests made by a leading university prove that water of 140 degrees F kills most common, harmful bacteria . . . very important when there's sickness in the house.

Set Automatic High

If you are washing with an automatic washer, be sure your water heater is set at least at 140 degrees F . . . or higher. Hands do not touch the water nor the hot clothes, so you can use water hot enough to gain the advantages mentioned.

If you are washing with conventional washer and must transfer clothes to a wringer, a clothes stick is often helpful for getting clothes out of the hot water.

If you must wash by hand . . . obviously the water cannot be hotter than the hands can stand . . . even though this means decreased washing efficiency.

But remember . . . such fibers as wool and silk are weakened by heat. Wool "felts" or mats together in too hot water . . . causing excessive shrinkage and a harsh feel. However, these fibers will get clean in lower temperature water for fortunately, by their very structure they release soil more easily than does either cotton or linen.

Non-colorfast articles, too, must be pampered with tepid water . . . even though they may be made from a fiber which should have the highest temperature for effective cleansing.

Knitted Things Need Special Drying Care

Home economists say a good way to guard against shrinkage of T shirts and knit underwear is to dry them in the same load as Turkish towels, which keep knit things from getting too dry.

After about 20 minutes, the knit pieces can be removed, folded, and placed on top of the dryer. There they can finish drying while the towels continue to tumble.

ELECTRIC DRYER DRIES EVENLY BY TUMBLING

Automatic Electric dryers tumble the clothes about 50 times a minute through warm air. The heat comes from the heating element located outside the tumbler and is circulated by a fan. Tumbling the clothes exposes their surfaces to the air for even drying. The tumbling action comes from a rotating drum or cylinder inside the cabinet.

Most dryers have a time dial, which the user sets for the length of time she wants the clothes to dry. With experience, the homemaker can determine how long to set the dial for dry clothes or for clothes of the right dampness to iron without sprinkling. Many dryers also have a dial which can be set for "Low," "Medium" or "High," depending on the fabrics being dried. One manufacturer has a "Dry-dial," which is set for "Dry" or for any degree of dampness. This dryer automatically shuts off when the degree of dryness selected is reached . . . and this single dial automatically adjusts the dryer to the kind of fabric being dried.

Vent Dryer Through Window
Heat and moisture are fanned out of the dryer into the room. In warm weather, windows and doors can be opened to ventilate the room.

However, to take care of all kinds of weather, the most satisfactory arrangement is to vent the dryer through a window directly outdoors. This is a very inexpensive way to take care of the moisture from the dryer.

Lint from clothes line-dried outdoors is blown away and the homemaker never sees it. However, lint in a dryer is either vented directly outdoors along with the steam . . . or it is collected in a lint trap. This can be easily cleaned by brushing. A vacuum cleaner can also be used to clean the lint trap.

This may be fun for the children but it's no fun for mother. The solution is an automatic laundry. It requires little space and the basement can be remodeled into a permanent recreation room suitable for the pleasant place to work and play—thanks to Electric Laundry equipment.

OVERLOADING CUTS RESULTS OF WASHERS

Like any other appliance, an automatic washer cannot do an efficient job if it is overloaded. The average capacity of an automatic washer is 9 pounds of clothes, dry weight. Whenever possible, make up mixed loads including both large and small items (for instance, one double sheet or two single sheets plus 7 pounds of smaller items). Below is a weight chart of many

Most electric dryers used a 230-volt connection, the same as an electric range or water heater. These dryers take less than an hour to dry a full load (nine pounds, dry weight) of clothes. There are a few electric dryers which operate on 115 volts. These require longer drying time, but they are particularly desirable for homes which do not have heavy-duty wiring.

common pieces in the average wash. Use it as a guide for making up loads of proper size.

WEIGHT GUIDE

Item	Avg. pieces per lb.
Luncheon Napkins	16
Pillowcases	3
Linen Towels	6
Bath Towels	2
Men's Shirts	2
Children's Dresses	2 or 4
Women's Dresses	2 or 3
A double sheet weighs about	2 pounds.

On some models of automatic washers, the washing compartment is self-cleansing.

Clean Periodically
On those that are not, follow the manufacturer's cleaning instructions.

Where a lint trap is provided, it should be removed periodically and flushed under running water.

The enamel exterior surface and chrome trim are kept gleaming by wiping with a clean, damp cloth.

from time to time. An occasional waxing provides extra protection. Since most models have sealed-in lifetime lubrication, no oiling or greasing is necessary.

Leave door of washer compartment ajar for ventilation when washer is not in use.

Turn water off at faucet when washing is completed. This prevents any strain on the rubber hose which might be caused by variation in city water pressure.

Iowans Keep Fire Watch In Illinois

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Davenport, Ia., twice spotted a fire in Rock Island before Rock Islanders were aware of it.

The blazes involved an old cribbing for the Crescent Bridge. A high river levee hides it from view in Rock Island but the fire was easily seen across the Mississippi River in Davenport.

DRYER DIALING INSURES PUSH BUTTON EASE

Modern "push button" living has progressed so rapidly that few of today's homemakers know how their modern appliances really work — they only know what these appliances will do! This is especially true of those efficient appliances with dials, buttons or finger tip controls that merely require a push or pull to start.

Women pay little attention to the mechanics involved in drying clothes. They are primarily interested in getting their clothes dry in the shortest time possible and with a minimum amount of work. They only know that if they toss an armload of wet wash in the dryer and push a button or two they'll soon have a pile of fluffy, clean-smelling garments ready to be folded and put away. Yet, the intricate workings of the dryer would be extremely interesting and informative to any homemaker who spends a few minutes studying them.

The woman who throws a pile of delicate fabric clothes in the dryer — such as acetates, dacron, orlon etc. — knows she has only to set the fabric dial and turn on the timer. She knows the machine will automatically dry her clothes thoroughly, yet gently, and they will be completely safe during the process. What she doesn't often know is why they are dried safely.

Easy Operation

Any woman can learn the why of her automatic dryer, if she will take the necessary few minutes to do so. Knowing why her dryer reacts the way it does will give her complete confidence in laundering any garment. At the same time, armed with this knowledge, she can hold her own in any conversation — which is more than most husbands can do when asked why the car starts when the starter button is pushed!

The housewife has two ready sources of information on dryer operation. She can ask her dealer's help in explaining how her dryer functions, or she can consult literature printed by the manufacturer of her dryer.

Today's Greatest WIFE-SAVER

FAULTY WIRING TAXES MOTORS, INCREASES COST

If you have to replace fuses often . . . if the picture shrinks on your TV screen when an appliance is turned on . . . the electric coffee-maker takes twice as long as it should . . . and "convenience" outlets are a jungle of tangled wires . . . you can rest assured you're not alone. In fact 19 out of 20 homes — including new ones — are not wired for modern electric living. There were less than a score of different electrical appliances in popular use 25 years ago. Today, the number is close to 60 with additional ones gaining popular favor as well.

An electrical system that allowed a plentiful flow of current to your platoon of electrical appliances a few years ago just can't carry the load needed for the corps of appliances added since that time. Thus, appliances seem less efficient than before . . . and they are, because electric wiring like water piping has just so much capacity and vastly increased use requires more wiring to handle it. Many homeowners think they are "saving" money by trying to get by with inadequate wiring. Actually, this slows down appliances and overloads electric motors in refrigerators, dishwashers, vacuum cleaners and other motor-driven appliances. Among the readily apparent symptoms of inadequate home wiring are:

Symptoms Of Bad Wiring
Lights flicker and dim and appliances are turned on.
Appliances operate slowly or not as well as they should. Heat appliances — such as toasters, irons, room heaters — warm-up too. Fuses blow or circuit-breakers trip too frequently.

TV pictures shrink in size or "wince" when other appliances go into action.

Multiple "octopus" connections used to connect a number of appliances and lamps.

Long cords strung around rooms or under rugs in order to connect lamps or appliances.

Minimum requirements of the 1955 Adequate Wiring Standard call for 100-ampere service. The amount of intensity of electricity flowing, comparable to the thickness of faucet stream, is measured in amperes. Investigation will probably show that you have no more than 60-ampere service and possibly less.

100-ampere service enables you to draw 23,000 watts at one time. From the name plates on your appliances, and don't forget lamp bulbs, you should be able to easily calculate your total load current. You'll probably be surprised how large it is. And though you probably would never turn everything on at once, you'll immediately realize that, with your present appliances plus those planned for the near future, a 100-ampere service is essential to your enjoyment of modern electrical living.

ABC'S Of Good Wiring
The ABC's of having adequate wiring in your home are: (a) a large enough service entrance capacity; (b) enough appliance circuits and lighting circuits with large enough wire; (c) enough outlets and switches properly located for the greatest convenience. Adequate wiring is easy to acquire and the cost involved is small when weighed against all the resulting benefits and values. Many banks offer loans to provide for such

WORKING TIME IS REDUCED BY AUTOMATIC AID

The average happy bride, who says "I do" so eagerly, might be somewhat less cheerful if she realized she was facing a sentence of five and a half years of hard labor. She is pledging, indirectly, to do the family washing for the rest of her life! In many homes this means lifting 92 tons of wet laundry, walking 45 miles, and making 1,176,000 motions each year as she washes, dries, and irons the clothes and linens.

Home economists of one laundry appliance manufacturing concern decided to find out just how much a woman gains by using modern home laundry equipment. Applying the same basic scientific methods used to reduce time and motion in the factory, where every lost minute or movement means lost dollars, the economists repeatedly followed housewives through the job of doing the washing.

They were as thorough in their time studies as their engineer associates would have been in testing time and motion required to cover an automatic dryer with gleaming white enamel. They did the testing twice. The first time, the housewife used an electric wringer washer, an old fashioned clothesline, and a hand iron. The next time home improvements as adequate wiring. But when planning to bring your wiring up to adequate levels, the wisest thing to do is to consult either an experienced electrical contractor or electric company representative and be sure.

Working Time Cut
The results were astounding. Working time was cut by 60 per cent; but that wasn't the entire story. The tons of weight lifting — dripping clothes, heavy laundry baskets, and the weight of the iron — dropped from 92 tons to two and a half tons!

Almost as spectacular was the difference in distance walked in each method of doing the laundry. The old-fashioned way took 45 miles. This included steps from the machine to the rinse tubs, from the laundry room out to the yard, from one end of the clothesline to the other and back again. But it also took into account the steps from the ironing board to the rack where the freshly-ironed clothes and linens were hung. With a modern laundry consisting of an automatic washer, clothes dryer and ironer, the miles were cut from 45 to two. Finally, the economists found that the number of manual motions was cut from 1,176,000 to 453,000.

BEEHIVE BANK FAILS
MCARTHUR, Ohio R. — Art Large used a beehive for a bank and got stung. But the bees weren't to blame. He put $800 of his savings in a glass jar and hid it in a beehive. Someone stole $400 from the jar.

MIXED CRASH
KINGSVILLE, Tex. R. — A safety director and funeral home owner were involved in a minor traffic mishap.

Temperature, Air Differ In Dryers

When you shop, ask for demonstrations and look for features you like. While all automatic electric dryers have the same basic operating principals and are similar in size and capacity, they differ in many details.

Operating temperatures and air velocities vary. Tumblers (cylinders) are of different designs. Check the two general types — time-controlled and temperature-controlled. Some dryers dry faster than others.

Remember that their performance depends greatly on the quantity of water extracted by your washer. The more water the washer extracts, the faster the drying time. Some dryers have special lint and soil removal features. Some have a signal that tells when drying is completed.

Most continue the tumbling action for a few minutes after the heat is automatically turned off, to cool the fabrics before unloading.

Look for the make that suits you best. Ask your husband to check mechanical features. Take first cost and operating cost into consideration. Check maker's and dealer's reputation for quality of product and reliable service. Check people who own dryers.

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. R. — A. L. Richards complained he worked three hours getting a swarm of his bees from a tree into a hive. While he was away for a little while, somebody swiped the hive.

CLOTHES DRYER GUARANTEE FOR FREE WEEKEND

As satisfying as it is to watch kids grow up, it takes a pretty fair share of the budget to keep them in clothes that fit. Luckily, most of their clothes are washable. This fact doesn't solve the problem, but at least it defines it.

Trying to stretch even a washable wardrobe for 10 days (while the next batch of clothes goes through the laundering process) requires a staggering number of complete changes. And, it's a year-round problem. During the school year you want the small fry to look their best, and during the summer they have so much more time for getting dirty — not that it ever takes them long!

Many mothers have learned that owning an electric clothes dryer is a sensible way out. It not only simplifies the laundry problem, it

vest laundry, you'll find it wonderfully convenient to do several washings a week. It follows — the oftener you wash, the fewer clothes you need, the more money you save.

Offers Great Savings
An electric clothes dryer offers even greater savings. All your clothes will look better and last longer when they aren't forced to suffer from sun-fading and clothes-pin-stretching.

Then, too, a dryer will do all sorts of special jobs. When the youngsters appear at noon with soaked snowsuits, for instance, you simply turn the suits inside out, pop them into your electric clothes dryer and they'll be completely dry by the time the kids are ready to go back to school.

From the time you start your family (baby's layette is much smaller when there's an electric clothes dryer in the house) until the kids start families of their own, college laundry can be washed, dried and mailed back the same day; you'll find a dryer not only saves time and work — it saves money, too.

NEW LONDON, Conn. R. — Har-

Dryers Do Best Job With Similar Items

It's easy to use your dryer efficiently. When you wash several loads of clothes on one day, sort your items into loads that can be dried together — that is, combine items of similar fabric and weight.

Your first load should be the one that takes the least drying time, so your dryer will be free when the next batch is ready to be dried. Keep heavy Turkish towels until last, for they will take the longest time.

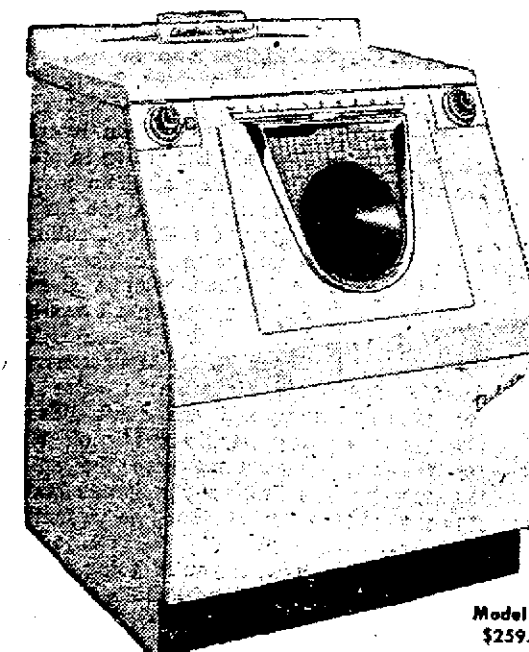

If you wash clothes every day or so, your problem will be one of drying a mixed load. In such a load you will have some items that you will want to remove while they're slightly damp for ironing, some pieces that will dry quickly, and some heavy terry towels or bath mats that will take longer to dry.

Set your time dial for the lightest-weight fabrics, and remove these first. Then continue to reset the time dial as needed until the load is completed.

You'll find it handy to put small items like socks, gloves, etc., in a small mesh bag; you save time by keeping them all together.

Acceptance of the automatic washer and the electric clothes dryer is no longer a matter of conjecture. The automatic washer is in so solid with homemakers that at least one of the leading manufacturers has discontinued its wringer models.

Equally obvious is the fact that every consumer vote for the automatic washer is a vote for the matching electric dryer. The two make a perfect washday team. And nobody was surprised with one manufacturer came out with a single unit combining both washing and drying cycles.

Laundry Space

Probably no group of consumers are more sold on laundry equipment than the buyers of new homes. This shows in the year-to-year increase in the number of homes sold with washers and dryers installed.

And even when the equipment itself is not part of the sales package, no home builder today can afford to design a home without taking laundry space into account and without providing the basic wiring and plumbing for laundry installation.

The compact, streamlined design of modern electric washers and dryers has made the layout problem easy to solve. The equipment is, of course, a very conservative user of space. It was the space saving factor, for example, of the washer-dryer duo that first commended the equipment to builders of basementless houses.

Nowadays, basement or no basement, the almost universal demand is for "upstairs" laundries. The appeal of the modern work-saving, step-saving kitchen has long been recognized as a prime sales-getter. Now modern laundry layout offers the same kind of appeal.

Combination Is Favorite

The combination kitchen-laundry is already a solid favorite. But, potentially, other multipurpose areas in the home are equally logical for the laundry installation.

MODERN DRYER IS WORK SAVER FOR HOUSEWIFE

The average housewife until about a decade ago was still very much like an Egyptian or Roman housewife when it came to drying the weekly wash. Of course, she didn't spread the laundry on hot sand or bushes around the yard, but she did hang the clothes on an outdoor clothesline and hope the sun stayed out long enough to dry them.

Not until modern engineering techniques were applied to solving the age-old question of how to dry clothes, even on rainy days, did a revolutionary change begin to take place in the American laundry.

In the 1920's, women began to try several crude "clothes dryers" that appeared on the market. They thought that anything would be better than hanging wet clothes in the basement or attic where it took days for the last trace of moisture to disappear.

Early Devices

One manufacturer constructed a dryer that consisted of a large cabinet with long racks arranged inside. Clothes were hung on these much as on the clothesline, and some form of fuel-type heat was then introduced. Another dryer had much the same rack arrangement with hot air circulated by means of a fan, and still another tumbled clothes around in a fuel-heated drum.

These devices were better than the old clothesline, but there were And it is the electric dryer which makes some of the alternatives feasible. Obviously, if a housewife must carry clothes out to a line in the yard, the washer must be located as close as possible to an outside door. But a dryer makes a clothesline pass the laundry can be moved to the very center of the house.

The suggestion that the bathroom be enlarged just enough to accommodate automatic laundry equipment has met with almost universal approval. The logic of this choice has great appeal to women for this is a natural assembly point for soiled bedding, towels and family clothing and equally close to the storage points for finished laundry.

Another popular location is the breezeway or glassed-in porch off the kitchen. Placement of washer and dryer here adds to the usefulness of porch without interfering with other family activities.

Or you can fit the laundry into a recreation room, hobby room or sewing room. In southern climates even the garage has been found to be a good location.

New Electric Clothes Drier Saves Time, Work, Money

An automatic electric clothes dryer can do more good for today's housewife than almost any other single household appliance.

An electric dryer saves work. Washday is no longer one of hard work. "Blue Monday" is banished forever. Monday, or any other day, is a pleasure with a clothes dryer. Gone are the arduous tasks of stooping, stretching and lugging of clothes to an outside line, plus all the extra movements and work involved in hanging up and taking down the family wash.

Only an electric clothes dryer saves worry. While clothes are drying weather worries are gone. Dashing out to a clothes line at the first sign of a change in the weather is unnecessary. Regardless of the weather outside, clothes can be drying safely inside, at any time of the day or night.

Another important asset of the dryer is its time saving advantages. It takes only a few seconds to load the dryer, and only a short time for clothes to dry. In addition, it's a clothes saver. Sun-fading and wind-fraying is impossible with dryer-dried clothes. And only an automatic clothes dryer can give clothes such a fresh, fluffy appearance.

An electric dryer saves money. A smaller inventory of clothes is many objections to be overcome. Too much time was still consumed waiting for the heat to drive moisture out of the clothes. In addition, these early machines were noisy and plagued with service troubles. In later years as the automatic washer replaced the wringer type, the housewife discovered she could wash more clothes than she could dry.

It was not until after World War II that the electric dryer "came to age." Average drying time has been reduced from hours to minutes—usually about 50 minutes for a full washer load. Improved drying and "fluffing" efficiency of this new machine enables many families to fold and store almost all dried clothes immediately, cutting ironing time in some cases up to 50 per cent.

In addition, the problem of trapping lint and getting rid of excessive moisture was overcome, making the dryer America's easiest to use and most wanted appliance.

As the American housewife discovers that with a dryer she does not have to walk 15 thing mules every year carrying heavy baskets of wet clothes to the clothesline, this new laundry appliance will become "standard" laundry equipment.

The planned home laundry has also changed the nation's washday habits. Already Monday has lost the "blue" part because many housewives now do laundry three and four times a week in automatic washers instead of waiting until the traditional Monday washday. Whenever time is available—day or night—automatic washer and dryer stand ready to do the wash, no matter how it storms or rains outside.

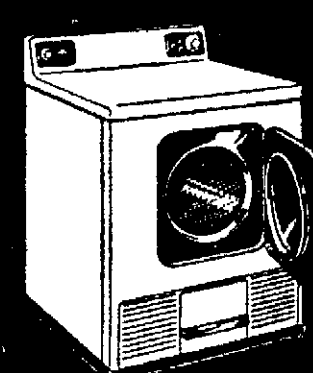

The future may hold more and better ways of washing and drying clothes with electronics or high frequency sound waves, but today the first major step in 1,000 years is taking place to ease the burden and monotony of washday for the housewife.

possible because they can be washed and dried faster and used oftener. The use of a dryer reduces a child's washable wardrobe to half, and results in a clothes saving of up to 1-3 in a family with two children. A dryer eliminates unsanitary outdoor drying conditions. HELPFUL TIPS FOR OPERATING MODERN DRYER

Here are eight tips on how to care for a modern automatic dryer. By following these simple rules and suggestions, the life of a dryer can be lengthened, and its operation will remain at top efficiency.

1. If dryer is the type which can be vented outdoors, do so if at all possible. This eliminates need for cleaning lint trap, keeps moisture out of the house.

2. If dryer cannot be vented, put it in a room with cross ventilation.

3. Clean lint trap after every load, if lint is not blown outdoors.

Extract Moisture
4. Extract all possible moisture from clothes before putting them into the dryer. This saves operating expense. If you are using an automatic washer, clothes will be just right for the dryer at the end of the complete cycle. A spin dryer will remove sufficient moisture, too. If wringing clothes, do it carefully, extracting as much moisture as possible.

5. Sort clothes according to length of time required to dry them and according to types of fabrics. In general, the same sorting which applies for washing clothes is right for drying them. This simplifies drying, too, for a load can be removed from the washer and tossed right into the dryer.

6. Clean outside of dryer with a damp cloth. An occasional waxing will also help protect the finish.

7. Oiling is unnecessary for most dryers, for they have sealed-in, lifetime lubrication.

8. Read manufacturer's directions carefully. Different dryers require different kinds of care and different operating techniques.

CLOTHES DRYER SOLVES READY TO WEAR DITHER

When we married gals slave from 9 'til 5 all week, you can't exactly blame us if we don't get excited about the prospects of a weekend of housework. So many of us have joined our ever-loving husbands in holding down regular jobs that Operation Housework has become Operation Weekend.

Laundry, for instance, is a particularly unhappy thought when you have to waste your few free Saturday and Sunday hours watching the weather and struggling with the apparently endless problems of wet laundry.

Happily, many a modern Mrs. has learned that owning an electric clothes dryer is a wonderful way to put an end to all this drudgery. You can dry your clothes anytime—day or night. There isn't any laundry problem when all you do is take your clothes from the washer and pop them into an electric dryer for automatic drying.

Free Weekends

Now what about those work-free weekends? Well, you just put your wet clothes in your dryer before you leave for work in the morning—or before you go to bed at night. The dryer shuts itself off automatically when your clothes are dry. Then, when you get home at night, or when you get up in the morning, your clothes are ready to fold and put away.

Naturally, you don't have to wait all that time if you don't want to. Electrically dried clothes are ready in just a few minutes if you want to get at the ironing, or have a few minutes for folding up the weekly wash. Lots of happy homemakers have found it's remarkably simple to do a small washing during the dinner hour. Clothes are washed while you eat,

They do, of course, require special laundry care. Most manufacturers include suggestions for washing. But drying directions are usually overlooked or covered by the catch phrase "drip-dry." Even grandmother could tell you that drip-drying is a slow, messy process.

Antiquated as drip-drying is, there's a reason why it's sometimes recommended. A wringer or spinner leaves tiny wrinkles on the surface of many fabrics. Allowing a garment to drip-dry eliminates some of the surface wrinkles even if the process and the results are not quite satisfactory.

Most housewives like a little wind when they dry clothes out-of-doors, but so many times, what began as a "good drying breeze" turns out to be a strong wind that whips and flaps the clothes around, fraying edges and even breaking clothes lines. An electric dryer puts an end to this sort of thing.

And it's worth noting that so many clothes come out of the dryer ready to fold and put away, you don't have nearly as much ironing. Many of your nicest things need just the slightest once-over on the seams and hems for a wonderfully soft, smooth look!

For Budget-minded

Then, too, what budget-minded gal wouldn't be happy with clothes that look better and last longer because they aren't forced to suffer sun-fading and clothespin stretching!

Gals, it comes down to this. If you're a working wife (and there are millions of us) you need the extra time, the wonderful convenience and the budget savings that spell out just one thing—you need a modern electric clothes dryer.

GOOD FOR A CUSHION

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (P)—A construction elevator plunged nine stories today—and although R. L. Reid came out of it a mess, he wasn't hurt. Reid, 32, was taking a big wheelbarrow of fresh cement to the top when the elevator cable snapped. He immediately flopped down on the soft, wet cement and used it for a cushion.

DRYERS FEATURE SPRINKLE DEVICE FOR TIME SAVING

Some electric dryers have a special feature for sprinkling clothes automatically. The clothes can be sprinkled and left in the dryer if you plan to iron right away or taken out of the dryer, wrapped in a plastic bag and placed in the refrigerator to be ironed at another time. If the homemaker's plans for ironing are interrupted, she can very conveniently dry the sprinkled pieces in the electric dryer, eliminating any possibilities of mildew.

When clothing is dried in an electric dryer the clothes basket rotates gently, tumbling the clothes in clean hot air. Each piece is tumbled, dried, and fluffed separately with no clothespin clench marks and no clothesline sag.

Some electric dryers on the market have an ozone lamp which is on while the clothes are being tumbled. This gives the clothes the wonderful fresh, out-of-doors smell without sun-fading.

If your dryer has a fluff position which tumbles the clothes without heat, you can fluff such items as feather pillows, shag rugs and chenille spreads to keep them soft and new looking.

Launder At Convenience

You can launder at your own convenience and forget about stormy weather while your clothes dry soft and wrinkle-free indoors in an electric dryer. They are safe from dust, grime, dirt, sun-fading and sudden showers.

Bright new towels, bath mats, chenille spreads stay like new when dried in an electric dryer. They are soft to the touch and pretty to look at.

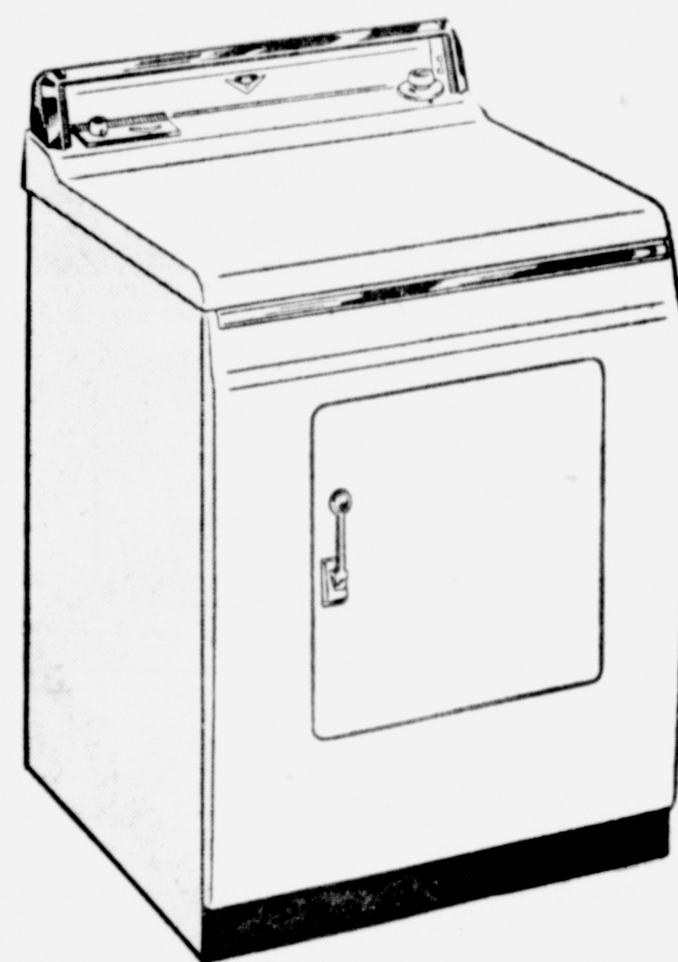

Children's corduroy clothing and flannel shirts have that new look about them when dried in an electric dryer. They come out of the dryer fluffy and wrinkle-free and can be worn without ironing. This relieves the homemaker of tiresome and time-consuming ironing.

However, clothes with just the right amount of moisture for ironing need be no problem with an electric dryer. Clothing to be ironed can be removed from the dryer while some moisture still remains in the clothes. The General Electric Consumers Institute advises that you draw garments out of the dryer when checking moisture. The air inside the dryer is overly warm and moist and clothes feel damper than they do when out in the room.

RAUH ADVISES GOP AND DEMS ON CANDIDATES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Prospects for the Republican presidential nomination figured prominently in political talk Sunday. And "advice" to both parties came from Chairman Joseph L. Rauh Jr. of Americans for Democratic Action, a political action group espousing New Deal and "Fair Deal" principles. Rauh told a New Jersey state ADA convention:

Republicans should "drop" Vice President Nixon as a 1956 presidential possibility because, Rauh said, the independent voter will "never swallow him." And:

Democrats should remember they are the "party of liberalism and that compromise and timidity have never won elections for them in the past, any more than they will in 1956."

Knight Speaks in New York
Nixon's name dropped up in New York with the arrival of California's Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for a series of speeches at GOP meetings. Knight had been criticized by Nixon supporters in California for his announced plan to lead the state's big delegation to the Republican National Convention next year as a nominal candidate for president, even if that pitted him against a Nixon-pledged slate.

Knight said "I'm not a candidate for president" even if President Eisenhower doesn't seek re-election, and "Nixon is all right with me if he's nominated. It depends on what the President's wishes are."

New York's Republican Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits said on a TV program it would be "logical" to assume his state's GOP delegation to the convention would offer former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as a "favorite son" candidate for president.

Harold E. Stassen, the President's special assistant on disarmament, said on a separate TV program that "I do not consider myself a candidate" even if Eisenhower doesn't run.

Cites GOP Problem
Sen. Butler (R-Md.) said it will be harder for the GOP to win if Eisenhower doesn't seek re-election. "But I think it can be done," Gov. Lawrence Weatherly of Kentucky, at Point Clear, Ala., for a conference of Southern governors that opens tomorrow, said today the odds favor the South voting solidly Democratic in 1956. And, he told newsmen, he sees Adlai Stevenson as the winner in presidential balloting if Eisenhower doesn't run.

Carmine G. DeSapio, New York Democratic national committee man who is pushing Gov. Averell Harriman of New York for president, said after a West Coast trip that he found a "surprisingly" large amount of pro-Harriman feeling in California. Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said he hopes Harriman, once a foreign aid administrator under President Truman, does not win the Democratic nomination because he is "the type to give away all we've got."

Modern in the Forward Look manner but the ultimate in the tradition of graceful elegance is the new 1956 De Soto Firelite four-door sedan shown here. The second phase of De Soto's Forward Look highlights extensive exterior body changes, including a dramatic new upswept lift to the popular color sweep that runs the virtual length of the car. Other glamorous new touches are the all-new front and rear ends, lush color-keyed interiors in brocades, damasks, leather, faille and other decorator materials. New perforated mesh grille with built-in parking lights, and a dramatic, turreted, three-tiered taillight assembly are among over two dozen highlight changes in design and engineering.

WILSON STAMP ON SALE JAN. 10

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has announced that the 7-cent Woodrow Wilson stamp of the new ordinary series will be first placed on sale at Staunton, Va., on January 10, 1956. This stamp is the 13th of the new regular series to be released.

The stamp will be 0.75 by 0.87 of an inch in dimension, arranged vertically and enclosed in a simple picture frame effect, printed by the rotary process, electric-eye perforated and issued in sheets of 100. The color of the stamp will be announced later.

The central subject, a likeness of Woodrow Wilson, was reproduced from a drawing by F. Graham Coates. The name "Wilson," in white face Gothic, is located on the left side just below the center of the portrait. The denomination "7 cents" and "U. S. Postage," arranged in two lines, also in white face Gothic, are placed in the lower right corner.

Stamp collectors desiring first day cancellations of the 7-cent Woodrow Wilson stamp may send a reasonable number of addressed envelopes to the postmaster at Staunton, Va., with money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope and the flap either sealed or turned in. The outside envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers."

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Authorities here are holding two Allentown Pa., seamen today pending the arrival of Pennsylvania authorities who will return them to the Keystone State to face charges of assault with intent to kill.

The two, William C. Ziegler, 20, and Paul D. Best, 23, were arrested Sunday as their ship, the Joshua Hatfield, docked here.

Both waived extradition. They are charged specifically with attacking Charles Hall, 35, of Belleville, Mich., with an auto jack Sept. 22 during a fair in Allentown.

Predicts Victory For GOP in 1956

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall kept plugging away with his "peace and prosperity" theme Monday and predicted it will win for his party in 1956.

He also urged strong support for W. Thacher Longstreth, GOP candidate for mayor of Philadelphia in the Nov. 8 election, saying he is the kind of candidate President Eisenhower has described as "ideal—one with integrity, with the vigor of youth, and with a dedicated spirit."

"You and your friends," said Hall in a speech prepared for a luncheon of the Republican Women of Pennsylvania, Inc., "have a challenge to place young Mr. Longstreth in your City Hall—to give all the citizens of this city a wholesome, forceful government."

Longstreth will be opposed in the election by Democratic candidate Richardson Dilworth, former district attorney.

IKE'S BROTHER GETS BOOST FOR PRESIDENCY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. and Mrs. Harold M. Dudley have formed a Milton Eisenhower club to boost President Eisenhower's brother for next year's Republican presidential nomination.

Dudley is executive secretary of the Greater Washington Industrial Council and his wife is a former president of the Federation of Republican Women in nearby Montgomery County, Md.

The Dudleys emphasized they were acting without Dr. Eisenhower's knowledge or consent. Dr. Eisenhower is president of Pennsylvania State University.

The couple said, "He is the Republican most likely to obtain the support of independent voters and win the election."

Philadelphia Boom
Meanwhile in Philadelphia yesterday, in a totally unrelated incident, the President's brother was boosted as his possible successor by Frank G. Binswanger.

Speaking at a board meeting of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, of which he is vice president, Binswanger said the name of Eisenhower "possessed such magic throughout the world," that in the event "Ike" chooses not to seek a second term, his brother, Milton, could carry out the plans of the Eisenhower administration.

Binswanger returned recently from a 35,000 mile tour of 15 countries as Philadelphia's "business ambassador." He is a prominent Philadelphia realtor.

Brothers Start Prison Sentences

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Former Congressman James P. Scoblick of Pennsylvania's 10th District surrendered with his brother Frank, 34, to federal authorities yesterday to begin serving prison terms for defrauding the former Mayfield State Bank of $169,000.

The 45-year-old former Republican legislator was sentenced to five years in prison and his brother to three years. They were involved in a scheme involving the misuse of checks with a former bank cashier, who is already serving a prison term.

HEADS IOOF AUXILIARY
HARRISBURG (AP)—Mrs. Ethlyn Henry, Meadville, today is president of the ladies auxiliary of the State Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Others elected at the group's annual convention yesterday were Mrs. Irene Maugans, Hagerstown, Md., a member of the Harrisburg auxiliary, vice president; Mrs. Anna Miller, Harrisburg, re-elected secretary, and Mrs. Florence Hallan, Greensburg, re-elected treasurer.

PREDICTS 1956 A BANNER YEAR

READING, Pa. (AP)—Charles B. Reeder, associate economist for E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co., Inc., predicts that 1956 will be "an excellent business year" but cautions the gains over this year "will not be automatic."

"A different pattern of business will emerge," he told the Pennsylvania Savings and Loan League yesterday, "and this new pattern will call for a closer analysis of individual customers and markets by all concerned."

Reeder said this is a "small challenge alongside some that business has dealt with in recent years."

League President Matthew R. Leib of Hazleton told the convention the state now has 859 savings and loan associations with two million members and assets of nearly 2½ billion dollars.

NEW SPEED RECORD

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new world speed record of 665.163 m.p.h. for a 500-kilometer closed course is claimed by the Navy.

Lt. Gordon Gray, 32, La Jolla, Calif., set the mark in a Douglas A4D Skyhawk jet last Saturday at Edwards Air Force Base, it was announced yesterday. It was nearly 50 miles an hour faster than the old record of 649.46 m.p.h. held by Maj. John L. Armstrong in an Air Force F8H Sabre Jet since Sept. 3, 1954.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL IN MURDER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Frank J. Ellsworth, 36, of Tampa, Fla., one of two men accused of participating in the slaying of Mrs. Lulubel H. Rossman, wealthy widow, was held without bail for the grand jury yesterday.

Ellsworth is charged by the commonwealth with murder, robbery, being an accessory after the fact of murder and receiving stolen goods.

The 76-year-old Mrs. Rossman was murdered in her central city hotel room last July 3. Raymond P. Wilson, 33, Tulsa, Okla., was held for court on murder, robbery and conspiracy charges Oct. 3 in connection with the slaying. He and Ellsworth deny any knowledge of the killing.

They also said they were not in Philadelphia July 3. Originally the pair was picked up in Las Vegas, Nev., after flashing a bankroll of $100 bills. Philadelphia authorities said the serial numbers on the $100 bills tally with those of the same series apparently overlooked by Mrs. Rossman's slayers and left in her hotel room.

DEALERS JOIN IN DRYER BUYER CAMPAIGN HERE

Dealers throughout the area are joining the fall season's biggest appliance sale event—Dryer Buyer Days. William A. Lentz, manager of the Metropolitan Edison Company here, and Howard Fox, its sales representative, are sponsoring the side running from October 15 to November 14. Features include a special deal on the increase in price of electric clothes dryer, which is becoming one of the most popular items in the appliance field. The laundry experts attribute the recent rapid increase in dryer sales to the fact that homemakers are finding it one of the greatest "Wife Savers" now available, eliminating heavy work and weather worries from washday.

WILLIAM A. LENTZ

"During 'Dryer Buyer Days' appliance dealers, distributors and Metropolitan Edison Company are cooperating to give residents of this area an opportunity to take advantage of a very special offer on electric clothes dryers.

"In addition to the special offer, participating dealers are offering their customers a free no obligation, opportunity to win one of the automatic electric clothes dryers being given away in the territory served by MECO. Full details on the free dryers can be obtained from any cooperating dealer, easily identified by dryer displays and a sign reading "Register Here to Win the Electric Clothes Dryer."

"In the event a MECO customer buys a dryer during Dryer Buyer Days" and later wins one in the drawing to be held November 21, the full price paid for their dryer will be refunded.

"The forthcoming 'Dryer Buyer Days' activity is a repeat performance of a highly successful campaign presented last fall by dryer dealers in which an unusual number of homemakers took advantage of the sale's terms to change to the modern electric way of drying clothes," Lentz added.

HELPFUL TIPS FOR OPERATING MODERN DRYER

Here are eight tips on how to care for a modern automatic dryer. By following these simple rules and suggestions the life of a dryer can be lengthened, and its operation will remain at top efficiency.

1. If dryer is the type which can be vented outdoors do so if at all possible. This eliminates need for cleaning lint trap, keeps moisture out of the house.

2. If dryer cannot be vented, put it in a room with cross ventilation.

3. Clean lint trap after every load, if lint is not blown outdoors.

Extract Moisture
4. Extract all possible moisture from clothes before putting them into the dryer. This saves operating expense. If you are using an automatic washer clothes will be just right for the dryer at the end of the complete cycle. A spin dryer will remove sufficient moisture, too. If wringing clothes, do it carefully, extracting as much moisture as possible.

5. Sort clothes according to length of time required to dry them, and according to types of fabrics. In general, the same sorting which applies for washing clothes is right for drying them. This simplifies drying, too, for a load can be removed from the washer and tossed right into the dryer.

6. Clean outside of dryer with a damp cloth. An occasional washing will also help protect the finish.

7. Oiling is unnecessary for most dryers, for they have sealed-in lifetime lubrication.

8. Read manufacturer's directions carefully. Different dryers require different kinds of care and different operating techniques.

CLOTHES DRYER SOLVES READY TO WEAR DITHER

When we married gals slave from 9 'til 5 all week you can't exactly blame us if we don't get excited about the prospects of a weekend of housework. So many of us have joined our ever-loving husbands in holding down regular jobs that Operation Housework has become Operation Weekend.

Laundry for instance is a particularly unhappy thought when you have to waste out few free Saturday and Sunday hours watching the weather and struggling with the apparently endless problems of wet laundry.

Happily many a modern Mrs. has learned that owning an electric clothes dryer is a wonderful way to put an end to all this drudgery. You can dry your clothes anytime—day or night. There isn't any laundry problem when all you do is take your clothes from the washer and pop them into an electric dryer for automatic drying.

Free Weekends
Now what about those work-free weekends? Well, you just put your wet clothes in your dryer before you leave for work in the morning—or before you go to bed at night. The dryer shuts itself off automatically when your clothes are dry. Then when you get home at night or when you get up in the morning your clothes are ready to fold and put away.

Naturally, you don't have to wait all that time if you don't want to. Electrically dried clothes are ready in just a few minutes if you want to get at the ironing, or have a few minutes for folding up the weekly wash. Lots of happy homemakers have found it remarkably simple to do a small washing during the dinner hour. Clothes are washed while you eat.

—wonders of wonders—washable! They do of course require special laundry care. Most manufacturers include suggestions for washing but drying directions are usually overlooked or covered by the catch phrase "drip-dry." Even grandmother could tell you that drip-drying is a slow, messy process.

Antiquated as drip-drying is there's a reason why it's sometimes recommended. A wringer or spinner leaves tiny wrinkles on the surface of many fabrics. Allowing a garment to drip-dry eliminates some of the surface wrinkles even if the process and the results are not quite satisfactory.

Conditioning any garment in an automatic clothes dryer is a far better way to restore the original finish. Conditioning is simply a matter of good timing and using the proper drying temperature.

Your orlon blouses, your woolen robes, your finest linens look fresher and last longer when they are conditioned in an electric clothes dryer.

Most housewives like a little wind when they dry clothes out-of-doors, but so many times, what began as a "good drying breeze" turns out to be a strong wind that whips and flaps the clothes around, fraying edges and even breaking clothes lines. An electric dryer puts an end to this sort of thing.

And it's worth noting that so many clothes come out of the dryer ready to fold and put away, you don't have nearly as much ironing. Many of our nicest things need just the slightest once-over on the seams and hems for a wonderfully soft, smooth look!

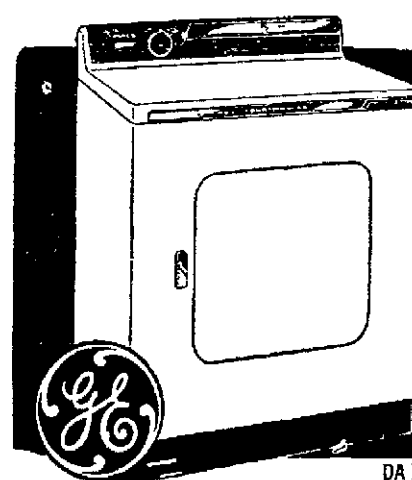

For Budget-minded
Then, too, what budget-minded gal wouldn't be happy with clothes that look better and last longer because they aren't forced to suffer sun-fading and clothespin stretching!

Gals, it comes down to this. If you're a working wife and there are millions of us, you need the extra time, the wonderful convenience and the budget savings that spell out just one thing—you need a modern electric clothes dryer.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A construction elevator plunked nine stories today—and although R. L. Reid came out of it a mess, he wasn't hurt. U.N. GROVE MARKS OPENING OF U.N. WEEK IN STATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Ten hemlock trees, the "United Nations Grove," were planted in Capitol Park yesterday to mark the opening of United Nations Week in Pennsylvania.

In turning the first spadeful of earth for the planting, Gov. Leader cited the need for a world organization "that can establish a just and lasting peace" and declared the U.N. "needs and deserves our support."

Janet R. Tobaben, Philadelphia, born Oct. 25, 1945, the day the U.N. held its first formal meeting, assisted the governor and Mayor Joseph S. Clark, Jr., Philadelphia, in the planting.

Leader said in his address: "We are reaching — or have reached — a point of finality in world affairs. If the United Nations fails, if its efforts to prevent war prove futile, our civilization may be wiped from the earth in the fire and fury of atom and hydrogen bombs."

311th anniversary of the birth of William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania.

The hemlocks, Pennsylvania's official state tree, were planted near the Education Building but will be transplanted near the new state Labor and Industry Building scheduled for opening next March. The governor said the trees will form the nucleus of a "United Nations Grove" and it is planned to add one tree each year. "I hope that the 'United Nations Grove' eventually will consist of a hundred trees," he declared.

Many communities throughout the state are planning local ceremonies to honor the U.N.'s birthday next Tuesday.

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP)—The team of Shawnee's Stan Dudas and Hershey's Johnny Weitzel headed the field that began quarter-final round play today in the Philadelphia Pro-Match play tournament at the Langhorne Country Club.

The Dudas-Weitzel combination was nine-under par for 16 holes yesterday in defeating Bob Henderson, Indian Valley, and Charles Schneider Jr., Doylestown 3 and 2. Dudas and Weitzel meet Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., and John Lewis, Presidential, who yesterday ousted Al Mac Donald, host pro, and Clarence Ehreshman, Ashbourne, 5 and 4.

DEPT. HOPES FOR RECORD TURNOUT OF DAIRY FOR '55

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state Agriculture Department today looked to record productions of eggs and milk in Pennsylvania for 1955 after another record month for both products.

Milk production on the state's 43,000 dairy farms for the first nine months of this year was 4,927,000,000 pounds, the department said, 4 per cent above the same period last year.

And by the end of December, production should exceed the present yearly record of 6,156,000,000 pounds set in 1954, a federal-state survey indicated.

All-Time Record Set
From January through September, egg production totaled 3,377,000,000 eggs, 215 million more than the first nine months of last year. The all-time annual record of 4,203,000,000 eggs was set during 1954.

* Pennsylvania production for milk and eggs set a new monthly record for September. Milk produced totaled 514 million pounds, 7 per cent above the September, 1954, mark while egg production for the month was 354 million eggs, also 7 per cent higher than September last year.

Cows in dairy herds last month totaled 960,000 or 12,000 more than in September, 1954, while laying chickens numbered 23,214,000, about 7 per cent above the same month last year.

The greater number of cows and chickens was the main factor in the increased September production, the department said, but good grazing also contributed to the milk production record.

STRIKE CONTINUES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18 (AP)—A strike of some 6,000 United Electrical Workers Union (Ind.) members at Westinghouse Electric Corporation's Lester plant entered its fourth day today.

A company spokesman said picketing by the union that prevents other workers from entering the plant is "illegal."

The union seeks wage increases and improved working conditions. The UE members are not connected with the CIO-International

SEEK PACT AT WESTINGHOUSE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Negotiators for Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers headed back to the bargaining table today in an effort to settle a strike of 44,000 workers.

Federal mediator John R. Murray of Philadelphia arranged the meeting.

The workers left their jobs at 30 Westinghouse plants across the nation at midnight Sunday after negotiators failed to reach agreement on a new contract. At issue are wages, length of contract and time study of jobs.

Robert D. Blasler, company vice president and chief negotiator, said the proposed length of the contract is the chief barrier to settlement. The company offered the union a five-year agreement which it said provided for a 23½ cent hourly hike over that period. The union wants a 15-cent hourly raise under a one-year contract. Wages now average $2.10.

GENERAL PATE TO HEAD U.S.M.C.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, a 57-year-old South Carolinian, will take over Jan. 1 as commandant of the Marine Corps.

He will succeed Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, under whom he has served as deputy commandant. Shepherd is retiring. Pate will be the corps' 21st commandant.

The announcement of Pate's elevation was made by Secretary of Defense Wilson after a call on President Eisenhower at Denver. Pate said it came as a surprise to him, and he was "very much excited and quite humble."

A native of Port Royal, S. C., Pate entered the Marine Corps after his 1921 graduation from the Virginia Military Institute.

A major at the outbreak of World War II, he gained distinction in helping plan such Pacific amphibious operations as Guadalcanal, Peleliu, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

Toward the end of the Korean War, Pate led the 1st Marine Division in some bitter fighting.

RICH HARVEST FOR LATE CROPS IS PREDICTED

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state Agriculture Department predicts "a more bountiful October harvest" than expected for late maturing crops because of favorable growth conditions during September.

However, the department said Sunday that declines could be expected in the estimated apple and peach crops in Pennsylvania.

Corn production as of Oct. 1 was estimated at 58,480,000 bushels about 5 million under last year and one million under average.

Frosts in late September did little damage and the prolonged growing season permitted good development of late corn, the department said. In general, early planted corn, where yields were less promising, was diverted to silage.

Corn Yield Slackens

The reported yield for wheat was an average of 26 bushels per acre, two less than the 1954 all-time high. Harvest for this year was 16,172,000 bushels for 3,600,000 less than last year which was about the same as average.

The oats yield this year is an all-time record 44 bushels per acre for a crop of 35,552,000 bushels. Barley production is estimated at 8,968,000 bushels.

RED DEATH IS CALLED SUICIDE

NEW YORK (AP)—The gun death of Alexei Minaev, a Russian clerk, has been officially listed as a suicide.

Dr. Milton Helsen, the city's chief medical examiner, issued the finding Sunday after an autopsy.

The clerk's body, a bullet through the brain, was found Saturday afternoon in the plush Park Avenue headquarters of the Soviet United Nations delegation.

Police were notified six hours later, and then only when the Russians wanted the body removed from the building.

Helsen accompanied a detective to the delegation headquarters and later, in a preliminary report, said the clerk had apparently placed the barrel of a 45-caliber automatic in his mouth and pulled the trigger.

Helsen noted he had no authority to be in the building, officially Russian territory, but was acting on a Soviet request. He described the Russians as cooperative.

They told him, he said, that Minaev had come here with his wife Zinaida 10 months ago. Since then, they said, he had been "despondent."

The Russians had no objection to an autopsy, Helsen said.

Train Smashes Car, Woman Is Killed

WILLOWOOD, N. J. (AP)—A Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Line passenger train smashed into a car at a crossing in nearby Erma last night, killing Mrs. Marie Raff, 27.

Police said the car was demolished in the mishap at the Weeks Landing Road crossing.

Mrs. Raff, of Erma, was alone in the auto.

According to police, the crossing had no blinker lights, bell or crossing gate.

Engineer of the train, bound for Cape May from Philadelphia and Wildwood, was John Snyder, 63, of Wildwood Crest.

Ousted Dictator Exiled To Ranch

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—Juan D. Peron drove away to internment on a ranch in southern Paraguay Monday—the 10th anniversary of the great demonstration which thrust him to supreme power in Argentina.

At 7 a.m., his car left the home of wealthy friends in the Paraguayan capital, where he has been staying since his exile from Argentina a month ago. He was headed for the estate near Villarrica where the Paraguayan government has promised to intern him. Argentina had asked that Peron be interned far enough from the border so he could not cause trouble.

Oct. 17 has been celebrated annually by Peron's labor union supporters to commemorate the day in 1945 when with a general strike and riotous processions through Buenos Aires they forced his release from prison and set him on the road to dictatorship.

Yesterday Peron was reported recovering from a slight case of influenza.

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—King Freddie, the 31-year-old Kabaka of Buganda, returned home to a tumultuous welcome Monday after two years exile in Britain.

Thousands of Africans roared out their tribal victory cry as the dapper young monarch stepped from a plane at Entebbe airport.

The Cambridge-educated Kabaka, Frederick Mutesa II, was exiled in 1953 when he opposed Britain's plans to federate his kingdom more closely with the three other provinces of the Uganda protectorate.

He was allowed to return under a new agreement which leaves him with fewer powers and puts more responsibility on his parliament.

HONG KONG (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China is ready to meet U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, a member of a Japanese delegation to Peking reported Monday.

Yoshihiko Kikkajimi, a Tokyo city councillor, quoted the Communist Premier as saying he is willing to confer with Dulles if such a meeting is needed to improve relations.

The Chinese Communist government has been seeking a high-level conference with U. S. officials for months.

READING, Pa. (AP)—Rediscovery of the merits of the capitalistic system was cited by a financier Monday as the leading factor in the struggle against communism.

"A better understanding by the American people of the intangible field of finance strengthens our country in its fight against communism," said Alexander Biddle, executive vice president of the Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange.

Biddle's remarks were made in an address prepared for the opening session here of the 78th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Savings and Loan League.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Leaking

gas is blamed for a violent explosion which destroyed a two-story building in downtown Havana, killing at least eight persons and injuring 50. Police estimated property damage at $500,000.

NEW YORK (AP)—A mass test of the tuberculosis-preventing drug isoniazid will be made within a year. Announcing this, Dr. Carroll E. Palmer, U. S. Public Health Service scientist, said if the drug is as effective against TB in humans as in animals, entire populations can be protected for as little as a penny a day.

Six Northeastern States Begin Difficult Task Of Cleaning Up Flood Debris

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With floodwaters draining back into river beds after a weekend rampage, stricken sections of six Northeastern states today tackled a backbreaking cleanup job.
For some areas it was the second such task in less than two months.
The floods, which left a dead and missing toll of 42, hit hardest at Connecticut. The same state took the brunt of the Aug. 19 floods that rode the tail of Hurricane Diane.
Rains that fed the latest floods stopped or changed to light showers yesterday throughout the flood belt, which stretched through sections of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.
The receding waters left behind piles of shiny debris, wrecked homes and businesses, washed-out highways and railroads, broken bridge and snarled power lines.
The federal government provided a variety of aids for the stricken areas.
Will Get U. S. Aid
The governors of Connecticut, New York and New Jersey were advised by Sherman Adams, assistant to the President, that the "major disaster" declaration of two months ago had been extended to cover the new floods. This enabled the Small Business Administrains running today.

The New Haven estimated its most recent flood damage amounted to not more than a million dollars, compared to a 10-million-dollar loss in the August 19 floods.
Highway washouts snarled traffic throughout the region. Emergency repairs eased the congestion to a degree, but as late as yesterday afternoon cars were backed up for 15 miles by a detour around a damaged section of the Merritt Parkway.
Outside of Connecticut, upstate New York suffered the heaviest damage this time, with 11 persons counted dead because of the rain and floods. Floodwaters from streams and rivers in the Catskill Mountains, littered communities along their banks with silt and debris.
$100,000 Damage
Ellenville, N. Y., some 65 miles above New York City, figured damage to public property alone amounted to $400,000.
In Pennsylvania seven persons were counted dead, all from auto accidents in the pouring rain. Rivers and streams began to recede before inflicting serious damage.
Massachusetts counted five dead and estimated that highway flood damage amounted to $200,000.
In Rhode Island two were dead. The Blackstone River threatened to repeat its August deluge but finally began to recede without causing great damage.
New Jersey's worst damage was along the Ramapo River, where more than 100 persons returned to evacuated homes. Several other rivers had threatened heavy damage but crested before causing serious trouble. The state counted one dead.

Other officers named to the weekend convention were: S. Earl Taylor, Burnham first vice president and Carroll E. Wenner, Orangeville, George M. Neely Jr., York, Frank S. Doermann, Burdett, H. Bert Shaw, Pottstown, C. Raymond Shiffer, Broomall and Samuel Murphy, Norristown, all vice presidents.

"KATIE" STORM GOING TO SEA

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane forecasters expected to bid goodby to Katie today as the season's 11th tropical storm whirled northeastward in the open sea.
Katie, spinning along at 20 m.p.h. some 700 miles east of Florida, had winds of bare hurricane force (75 miles an hour) over a small area near the center and gale winds extended only 50 miles out.
A forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau said Katie lost much of her punch during her 160-trip across the big island of Hispaniola and never completely recovered.
Haiti and the Dominican Republic share the island where the storm thrashed ashore with 115-mile winds. Reports said two small towns were damaged but there were no immediate reports of casualties at Anse-a-Pitre, coastal town of 800 on the Haitian side, or at Pedernales, on the Dominican side.
Half the homes in Anse-a-Pitre were reported destroyed and 68 houses were damaged in Pedernales.

1 Killed, 4 Hurt In Harrisburg Collision

HARRISBURG (AP)—Mrs. Marguerite E. Keith, 42, of nearby Paxtonia, was killed and four persons were injured, two seriously, in a two-car collision in Harrisburg last night.
The seriously injured were identified by city police as John C. Keith, 48, husband of the dead woman and driver of their car, and Donald R. Michaels, 20, Harrisburg, driver of the second car.
Also injured were William K. Houseman, 21, and Harry F. Pike, 26, both Harrisburg and passengers in the Michaels car.
"NOTHING PRESSING"
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, flew to Denver Monday for what Wilson called a "regular Monday morning meeting" with President Eisenhower. They were accompanied by Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother.

Wilson said there was nothing pressing, a out the trip and Monday's session is no different except for the site.

tration and the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Washington to take steps to help flood victims.

Val Peterson, Federal director of civil defense, inspected the area so he could take a first-hand report to President Eisenhower. From his sick bed in Denver, the President pledged all aid possible to the disaster area.

The Red Cross estimated 6,900 families were homeless or went back to damaged dwellings.

Previous Flood Worse

Still, the destruction of last week came nowhere near the severity of the Aug. 19 floods. In Connecticut alone that disaster took 74 lives and caused more than 215 million dollars in damage, compared to 16 dead and missing in the second round of floods.

Army Engineers, who did 12 million dollars worth of repairs after Diane, figured the new floods left them with four million dollars worth of work to do.

Some of this work will be a matter of repairing once again the facilities they had fixed before. Some of the repair work will be new. Of the 48 Connecticut towns hit by the latest floods, 28 had suffered damage from Diane.

Washouts Snarled Traffic

The New Haven Railroad, hit so hard it had to suspend operations for a time, restored some service yesterday and had even more trains running today.

The New Haven estimated its most recent flood damage amounted to not more than a million dollars, compared to a 10-million-dollar loss in the August 19 floods.

1 Killed, 4 Hurt In Harrisburg Collision

HARRISBURG (AP)—Mrs. Marguerite E. Keith, 42, of nearby Paxtonia, was killed and four persons were injured, two seriously, in a two-car collision in Harrisburg last night.

The seriously injured were identified by city police as John C.

Keith, 48, husband of the dead woman and driver of their car, and Donald R. Michaels, 20, Harrisburg, driver of the second car. Also injured were William K. Houseman, 21, and Harry F. Price, 26, both Harrisburg and passengers in the Michaels car.

"NOTHING PRESSING"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Ar-

thur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, flew to Denver Monday for what Wilson called a "regular Monday morning meeting" with President Eisenhower. They were accompanied by Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother.

Wilson said there was nothing pressing about the trip and Monday's session is no different except for the site.

flame-cooking with a modern matchless gas range

Fortunately, with a modern Gas oven, you know BEFORE you start how food's going to turn out. You KNOW, for instance, that a turkey's going to be a delicious golden brown all over . . . tender and moist the whole way through. Because a Gas oven is air-circulated for even browning anywhere in the oven. Because a Gas flame is so flexible you're sure of getting the precise temperatures recommended for perfect roasting.

These sleek new Matchless Gas Ranges are as MODERN as can be. Gas top burners, broilers and ovens all light automatically. Automatic clock-controlled ovens even cook dinners for you while you're away from home. And only flame-kissed broiling is smokeless.

What a selection! All these famous makers offer modern matchless GAS ranges.

U.N. GROVE MARKS OPENING OF U.N. WEEK IN STATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Ten hemlock trees, the "United Nations Grove," were planted in Capitol Park yesterday to mark the opening of United Nations Week in Pennsylvania.

In turning the first spadeful of earth for the planting, Gov. Leader cited the need for a world organization "that can establish a just and lasting peace" and declared the U.N. "needs and deserves our support."

Janet R. Tobaben, Philadelphia, born Oct. 25, 1945 the day the U.N. held its first formal meeting, assisted the governor and Mayor Joseph S. Clark, Jr., Philadelphia, in the planting.

Leader said in his address: "We are reaching — or have reached — a point of finality in world affairs. If the United Nations fails, if its efforts to prevent war prove futile, our civilization may be wiped from the earth in the fire and fury of atom and hydrogen bombs."

The ceremony also marked the 311th anniversary of the birth of William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania.

The hemlocks, Pennsylvania's official state tree, were planted near the Education Building but will be transplanted near the new state Labor and Industry Building scheduled for opening next March.

The governor said the trees will form the nucleus of a "United Nations Grove" and it is planned to add one tree each year. "I hope that the 'United Nations Grove' eventually will consist of a hundred trees," he declared.

Many communities throughout the state are planning local ceremonies to honor the U.N.'s birthday next Tuesday.

LANGHORNE, Pa. (AP)—The team of Shawnee's Stan Dudas and Hershey's Johnny Weitzel headed the field that began quarter-final round play today in the Philadelphia pre-match play tournament at the Langhorne Country Club.

The Dudas-Weitzel combination was nine-under par for 16 holes yesterday in defeating Bob Henderson, Indian Valley, and Charles Schneider Jr., Doylestown 3 and 2.

Dudas and Weitzel meet Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., and John Lewis, Presidential, who yesterday ousted Al Mac Donald, host pro, and Clarence Ehreshman, Ashbourne, 5 and 4.

DEPT. HOPES FOR RECORD TURNOUT OF DAIRY FOR '55

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state Agriculture Department today looked to record productions of eggs and milk in Pennsylvania for 1955 after another record month for both products.

Milk production on the state's 43,000 dairy farms for the first nine months of this year was 4,927,000,000 pounds, the department said, 4 per cent above the same period last year.

And by the end of December, production should exceed the present yearly record of 6,156,000,000 pounds set in 1954, a federal-state survey indicated.

All-Time Record Set

From January through September, egg production totaled 3,377,000,000 eggs, 215 million more than the first nine months of last year. The all-time annual record of 4,203,000,000 eggs was set during 1954.

"Pennsylvania production for milk and eggs set a new monthly record for September. Milk produced totaled 514 million pounds, 7 per cent above the September, 1954, mark while egg production for the month was 354 million eggs, also 7 per cent higher than September last year.

Cows in dairy herds last month totaled 960,000 or 12,000 more than in September, 1954, while laying chickens numbered 23,214,000, about 7 per cent above the same month last year.

The greater number of cows and chickens was the main factor in the increased September production, the department said, but good grazing also contributed to the milk production record.

STRIKE CONTINUES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18 (AP)—A strike of some 6,000 United Electrical Workers Union (IUE) members at Westinghouse Electric Corporation's Lester plant entered its fourth day today.

A company spokesman said picketing by the union that prevents other workers from entering the plant is "illegal."

The union seeks wage increases and improved working conditions. The U.E. members are not connected with the CIO-International

RICH HARVEST FOR LATE CROPS IS PREDICTED

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state Agriculture Department predicts "a more bountiful October harvest" than expected for late maturing crops because of favorable growth conditions during September.

However, the department said Sunday that declines could be expected in the estimated apple and peach crops in Pennsylvania.

Corn production as of Oct. 1 was estimated at 58,480,000 bushels about 5 million under last year and one million under average.

Frost in late September did little damage and the prolonged growing season permitted good development of late corn, the department said. In general, early planted corn, where yields were less promising, was diverted to silage.

Corn Yield Slackens

Yield of corn per acre, at an average of 43 bushels, is three bushels under last year and nearly one bushel under average.

The reported yield for wheat was an average of 26 bushels per acre, two less than the 1954 all-time high. Harvest for this year was 16,172,000 bushels for 3,600,000 less than last year which was about the same as average.

The oats yield this year is an all-time record 44 bushels per acre for a crop of 35,552,000 bushels. Barley production is estimated at 8,968,000 bushels.

Ousted Dictator Exiled to Ranch

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—Juan D. Peron drove away to internment on a ranch in southern Paraguay Monday—the 10th anniversary of the great demonstration which thrust him to supreme power in Argentina.

At 7 a.m., his car left the home of wealthy friends in the Paraguayan capital, where he has been staying since his exile from Argentina a month ago. He was headed for the estate near Villarrica where the Paraguayan government has promised to intern him. Argentina had asked that Peron be interned far enough from the border so he could not cause trouble.

Oct. 17 has been celebrated annually by Peron's labor union supporters to commemorate the day in 1945 when with a general strike and riotous processions through Buenos Aires they forced his release from prison and set him on the road to dictatorship.

Yesterday Peron was reported recovering from a slight case of influenza.

NEW YORK (AP)—A mass test of the tuberculosis-preventing drug isoniazid will be made within a year. Announcing this, Dr. Carroll E. Palmer, U. S. Public Health Service scientist, said if the drug is as effective against TB in humans as in animals, entire populations can be protected for as little as a penny a day.

GENERAL PATE TO HEAD U.S.M.C.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Randolph McCall Pate, a 57-year-old South Carolinian, will take over Jan. 1 as commandant of the Marine Corps.

He will succeed Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, under whom he has served as deputy commandant. Shepherd is retiring. Pate will be the corps' 21st commandant.

The announcement of Pate's elevation was made by Secretary of Defense Wilson after a call on President Eisenhower at Denver. Pate said it came as a surprise to him, and he was "very much excited and quite humble."

A native of Port Royal, S. C., Pate entered the Marine Corps after his 1921 graduation from the Virginia Military Institute.

A major at the outbreak of World War II, he gained distinction in helping plan such Pacific amphibious operations as Guadalcanal, Peleliu, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

Toward the end of the Korean War, Pate led the 1st Marine Division in some bitter fighting.

RED DEATH IS CALLED SUICIDE

NEW YORK (AP)—The gun death of Alexei Minaev, a Russian clerk, has been officially listed as a suicide.

Dr. Milton Helpern, the city's chief medical examiner, issued the finding Sunday after an autopsy.

The clerk's body, a bullet through the brain, was found Saturday afternoon in the plush Park Avenue headquarters of the Soviet United Nations delegation.

Police were notified six hours later, and then only when the Russians wanted the body removed from the building.

Helpern accompanied a detective to the delegation headquarters and later, in a preliminary report, said the clerk had apparently placed the barrel of a .45-caliber automatic in his mouth and pulled the trigger.

Helpern noted he had no authority to be in the building, officially Russian territory, but was acting on a Soviet request. He described the Russians as cooperative.

They told him, he said, that Minaev had come here with his wife Zinaida 10 months ago. Since then, they said, he had been "despondent."

The Russians had no objection to an autopsy, Helpern said.

News Briefs

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—King Freddie, the 31-year-old Kabaka of Buganda, returned home to a tumultuous welcome Monday after two years exile in Britain.

Thousands of Africans roared out their tribal victory cry as the dapper young monarch stepped from a plane at Entebbe airport.

The Cambridge-educated Kabaka, Frederick Mutesa II, was exiled in 1953 when he opposed Britain's plans to federate his kingdom more closely with the three other provinces of the Uganda protectorate.

He was allowed to return under a new agreement which leaves him with fewer powers and puts more responsibility on his parliament.

HONG KONG (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China is ready to meet U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, a member of a Japanese delegation to Peiping reported Monday.

Yoshihiko Kishi, a Tokyo city councillor, quoted the Communist Premier as saying he is willing to confer with Dulles if such a meeting is needed to improve relations.

The Chinese Communist government has been seeking a high-level conference with U. S. officials for months.

Train Smashes Car, Woman Is Killed

WILDWOOD, N. J. (AP)—A Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Line passenger train smashed into a car at a crossing in nearby Erma last night, killing Mrs. Marie Raff, 27.

Police said the car was demolished in the mishap at the Weeks Landing Road crossing.

Mrs. Raff, of Erma, was alone in the auto.

According to police, the crossing had no blinker lights, bell or crossing gate.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

THREE BIG PRIZES
In MERCHANDISE!

In every advertisement on this page you will find the name of a prominent football game scheduled to be played this week. Can you figure which team will win? To the persons naming the most winners, providing they have complied with all of the rules printed at your right, will go three merchandise prizes, good at any of the cooperating firms. Compare the respective abilities of the competing teams and decide, in your mind, which will win. And read the advertisements carefully that you may fill out your entry blank correctly.

PRIZES IN MERCHANDISE

Contest Rules

1. The football contest is open to everyone, except employees of The Gettysburg Times.
2. Contestants are required to obtain an entry blank from one of the firms advertising on this page. There is no charge for these blanks and no purchase need be made to obtain one. Merely visit one of the firms and ask for a "Gettysburg Times Football Contest Blank."
3. No contestant may submit more than one entry a week under his or any other name.
4. All entries must be received in The Gettysburg Times office before 5 p.m. on the Friday of the week the games are to be played.
5. In case of ties the winner will be the individual whose estimate in the "Feature Game" is the closest to the total points scored by those two teams.
6. Follow instructions printed on the entry blanks closely to avoid disqualification.
7. Names of prize winners will be announced in the news columns of The Gettysburg Times on the Wednesday following the playing of the games.
8. Contest winners will receive by mail merchandise certificates equivalent to amount of prize.

Centralization Of State School System Is Called Violation And Usurpation

HARRISBURG (AP)—A plan for greater centralization of Pennsylvania school administration, sponsored by the State Education Department, is under attack as a violation of the democratic process.

N. W. Geiss, superintendent of Berks County schools, made the charge yesterday at a special meeting of the State Assn. of County School Superintendents called to consider proposed legislation pending before the Senate Education Committee.

"It would be a violation of the democratic processes and usurpation of power by the state—a step toward dictatorship," Geiss said of the plan.

The bill calls for elimination of the jobs county superintendents and county school boards in favor of 32 regional service areas and regional superintendents.

Would Hurt Program
"The extremely radical form of this bill would hurt the educational program," Geiss continued. "It embodies sentiments that spell out bureaucracy—the local people and boards would no longer decide anything.

"The bill is fundamentally undemocratic because it lessens local controls."
Several superintendents agreed with Geiss and after four hours discussion the association unanimously decided to attempt to amend or requote the proposal offered the Senate last week with two school administrators—Sens. Hays (D-Centre) and Seyler (D-York)—among co-sponsors.

A committee composed of association officers and two representatives from each of the organization's five geographic districts will try to come up with suggested changes by Nov. 14.

Will Need Approval
"Then of course, they would have to be approved by association members," said Hobart A. Farber, Lehigh County superintendent and president.

A four hour discussion came up with five suggestions to be incorporated in the proposed amendments.

They are:

"SPLIT MY PANTS"

LEICESTER, England (AP)—Two hours after escaping from jail last night, 25-year-old Dennis Anon rang the bell at the front gate and asked the warden to let him back in.

"I'm tired, cold and hungry," Anon explained, "and besides I split my pants climbing over the fence."

The 1954 Duke University football team did not score a safety or a field goal. Their opponents didn't either.

REAL SNAKE ACTION

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. (AP)—"Keep your eyes open, there may be another one around," the state road worker told Mrs. Arie Swennen-holser after he killed a 35-inch rattlesnake in her back yard with a shovel.

Still a little nervous, the woman started out her back door only to find a bigger rattler coiled on the steps. Carl Hunsinger, a neighbor, shot it. It measured 40 inches.

Amazing New Safe Discovery Makes

REDUCING

SCIENCE NOW HELPS YOU TAKE OFF YOUR FAT WHILE YOU EAT THE FOODS YOU CHOOSE

FRIENDS! Let Me Ask You a Simple Question

Are you too fat because you eat too much? Would you like to lose fat but you just can't control your appetite and like to eat too much of the wrong kind of food? Do you like sweets, candy, cake and are you a real glutton when it comes to butter, gravy, potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat?

AT LAST! A CAPSULE THAT EQUALS A MEAL OF VITAMINS, MINERALS AND BULK

Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but ALL THE RECOGNIZED proven aids to reducing he found in all the advertised products offered today. It contains the concentrated proteins you've read and heard about. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories yet expands when it absorbs water, thereby helping to give the feeling of a full contented stomach. Yet these tiny capsules contain not just one but ALL the drugless reducing aids he found to be needed to actually automatically make you eat less without conscious effort and like it! In fact, these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal!

Counteract Hunger

Yes, All-in-One Reducing Capsules are as filling, as hunger satisfying, as rich in vitamins, minerals and fat consuming protein as many a meal. When you take All-in-One Reducing Capsules, you not only get the very vitamins, minerals and fat consuming protein you need for health, for energy, for rich, red blood, for that wonderful feeling that comes from eating a delicious, satisfying meal of well chosen food.

FAT GOES FAST FROM ALL OVER THE BODY!

See fat disappear from stomach, bust, thighs. See fat go from the face, chin, neck, arms, legs and ankles. You'll be surprised at the pounds you lose with the very first box. The inches that disappear the first month. See fat go so much easier you don't actually know what's happening. There's no starvation dieting, hunger, no drugs, no exercise.

And the Cost? It's absolutely nothing unless you grow and enjoy better health. ALL-IN-ONE Reducing Capsules are yours to try a full week on this no risk plan. Go to your drug store. A full supply of ALL-IN-ONE Reducing Capsules, enough to lose as much as 10 pounds of fat, is only $2.98 at your drug store, on the iron-clad warranty and guarantee that you must be satisfied with the weight you've lost with the very first package or money back. So start now and continue taking off fat with ALL-IN-ONE Reducing Capsules until you've cut down to the weight and figure you want. Don't be fat. Take off fat this new, easy, safe, simple way. FOR EASY REDUCING, get ALL-IN-ONE CAPSULES TODAY!
